Lawrence, Post-Crescent Speakers To Continue Symposium Today

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

The consideration of "Human Values in a Scientific Age" was examined from three viewpoints Wednesday at the first session of the America and the World Community symposium in the Lawrence College chapel.

While the viewpoints of the scientist, psychiatrist and poet, who spoke were different, there was a chain of similarities that emerged to give unity to the examination.

Each of the speakers seemed to warn that Man must stay aware of his humanity on penalty of losing it in vastness, mystery and seductions of the scientific age.

The symposium continues at 8:15 p.m. tonight in the chapel when Dr. Harlow Shapley, astronomer from Harvard University, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, educator and psychiatrist of University of Chicago, and Howard Nemerov, poet of Bennington, Vt., College and the Library of Congress, expand their discussion while participating in a round-table session with Dr. Harold K. Schneider of Lawrence College acting as moderator. Questions submitted by members of Wednesday's near capacity audience will serve as a basis of the discussion.

Closer Union

Dr. Shapley Wednesday called for a closer union between the emotionalism of theology and the factuality of science to provide Man with a feeling of his place in the expanding universe by answering questions of his destiny, goals and probabilities of his future.

Dr. Bettelheim decried Man's drift toward conformity as stemming from his apparent acceptance of slavery to the machine and urged he keep his decision-making powers in tact as an individual.

Nemerov pointed out the dependence of science on Man's native ability to communicate in images, drawing from this a warning that life and progress is ephemeral and should be examined closely to discover the seeds of destruction to keep them under control.

Echoes Need

Dr. Shapley echoed this need for humility as he called for the building of a system of ethics for the "now" rather than the "2,000-year-old then" which, he said, theology espouses. This system should be based on two responses: a pride in existing in the "glorious sea of the universe" tempered by humility from realizing how small our part of the universe is.

The universe, he said, has been expanding from a "prime" Turn to Page 10, Col. 1

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Three Soviet jet fighters shot down an unarmed Iranian plane 18 miles inside Iranian territory after it accidentally strayed into the Soviet Union, official government reports said today.

Two aerial survey officials aboard the plane were killed and the pilot was seriously injured.

The plane, on a photographic mission in connection with a land redistribution project in northeastern Iran, lost its way Wednesday and flew into Soviet territory, the reports said.

Green Bay Scholar Fund to Get Byrnes' Stock Gains

Congressman Tells House He Wants to Remove All Doubts About Purchase

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Rep. John W. Byrnes today told the House of Representatives, "as soon as arrangements can be made," he is going to sell his Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corp. stock and turn over all profits from the sale to Scholarships, Inc. of Green Bay.

The congressman said he had come to the conclusion this would "remove the slightest possibility of doubt that I would knowingly profit from any transaction, which, on the basis of all the facts, was not regular and above board in every way."

"I do it without impugning the motives of or ethics of anyone else who may have bought or sold the stocks. I do it in keeping with my conscience and I do it in simple justice to this House."

Byrnes said he would retain from the proceeds of the sale of the stock only his original purchase price with the balance to be donated to Scholarships, Inc. Scholarships, Inc., is a non-profit organization which finances higher education for deserving students.

(On the basis of Wednesday's quotation, Rep. Byrnes' 966 shares of stock were worth $23,181. On his original investment of $2,300, his profit would be over $20,000.)

Byrnes gave the House the full history of his part in the ruling (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula is preparing to break diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia and expel their diplomats from the Congo, government sources said today.

The sources said Adoula would shortly publish documents, seized from two Soviet diplomats arrested Tuesday, which showed deep involvement of the two Communist countries in subversion in the Congo.

The sources said expulsion letters to the Russians and the Czechs were being readied by the Foreign Ministry. The final decision on when to deliver them is up to Adoula, they added.

Red Newsmen Seized

Soviet Embassy officials reported that a Russian newspaperman was arrested at his hotel Wednesday night. He was Benik Beknazar — Juzbachev, correspondent of the Soviet Novosti news agency who arrived recently in Leopoldville.

The Soviet officials said they still had received no news of the two diplomats who were dragged from their car and arrested two days ago.

The two embassy counselors Boris Voronin and press attaché Yuri Mikhalkov, were arrested on their return from Brazzaville, capital of the neighboring Congo Republic, where extremist opponents of the Adoula regime are setting up a "Congolese government in exile."

The council also put aside, at least temporarily, controversial declarations on Jews and religious liberty, part of a schema on Christian unity, had been the key issues in the council's general debate on the schema.

Program to Aid Mankind, Kennedy Says

Scientific Aims Are Bipartisan, He Asserts in Texas

BY JACK BELL

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Kennedy depicted his administration's New Frontier scientific program today as a bipartisan approach to the future which would benefit all mankind.

The Democratic President said in a speech prepared for dedication of the Aerospace Medical Health Center at Brooks Air Force Base that the "New Frontiers" slogan which helped him with the presidency in 1960 "is not the exclusive property of either Democrats or Republicans."

Envisions New Era

"It refers instead," he said, "to this nation's position in history today — to the fact that we stand on the edge of a new era filled with both crises and opportunities, an era to be characterized by both grim challenges and historic achievements."

This unusual bipartisanship on the part of the President seemed to reflect considerable administration worry about what is going on in Texas. The state will cast 25 electoral votes, slightly less than one-tenth of the 270 total Kennedy would need for re-election in 1964.

President May Withdraw Name Of Rabinovitz

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is considering withdrawing his nomination of David Rabinovitz, Sheboygan labor attorney, for the federal judgeship of the Western Wisconsin district, it was learned today.

According to a usually reliable Democratic source, who wished not to be identified, the President, and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy have decided it might not be wise to press the nomination in view of strong opposition to it among members of the Wisconsin Bar Association.

One possible "compromise" candidate who is being considered, the Democratic source said, was Atty. Leonard Schmitt of Merrill, reportedly a former Republican, who is currently defending Gov. Reynolds' appointments to high state positions.

GOP Leaders Ignore Request

Special Session Hinted Unless Legislature Acts on Highway Bill

MADISON (AP)—The Republican-controlled Wisconsin Legislature pushed toward a recess until April today despite a Democratic warning that failure to act on an accelerated highway construction program could lead to a special session.

GOP Assembly leaders indicated that they have no intention of acting on Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds' substitute highway bill, co-sponsored by two Republicans and two Democrats with the chief executive's approval.

Governor May Act

Democratic Floorleader Robert Huber of West Allis warned three per cent sales tax on his colleagues that failure to act on the program Reynolds concurrence was expected in call's Project 66 may prod the governor to call a special session of the Legislature.

Speaker Robert Haase, R-Marquette, said he saw "no in-the-budget-revenue compromise" of Assembly consideration of the proposal.

If the governor wants a special session in August, then, on Nov. 5, Rev. (cial session next month, I guess, Haase said that a $25 million) surplus could be expected at the end of the biennium and the levy could be repealed safely along with other taxes.

Republicans were suspicious of the governor's estimated surplus, but 16 of them voted for the electricity tax cut.

Strongest opposition came from Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, who is co-chairman of the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee. He scolded fellow senators for the action, declaring they should wait until next spring when revenue estimates will be more complete.

"It looks like everybody wants to get on the tax cutting bandwagon," Hollander said.

The Senate also concurred in an Assembly bill to eliminate the sales tax on food processing equipment. The Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a measure to repeal the sales tax on repairs made on vehicles prior to resale.

Winnebago County police investigating the shooting pieced the story together from other parts of the Wayside Inn, a tavern just north of the Menasha city limits where the incident took place.

val atom" and that Man has undergone continuing adjustments as his knowledge of the expanding universe expanded in turn.

Man considered his universe centered upon himself and the earth until Copernicus demonstrated a heliocentric universe in the 16th Century. The sun was the center in Man's mind until about 45 years ago when the galactic theory was demonstrated and Man realized he was but a creature on the third planet of "a run-of-the-mill" star in one of 10 to the 20th power number of galaxies.

Each of these changes in concept caused adjustments throughout Man's existence. Today he is faced with accepting and adjusting to the demonstrated fact that life as he knows it is possible and very probably spread throughout the entire universe since spectroscopic investigations show all the physical elements of possible life are everywhere present awaiting the proper conditions to evolve.

Dr. Shapley declared the time of the "dogma - twisters" must end but he said there can be no war between science and theology since the latter needs the information of the former and science needs the theologian and philosopher's help in answering such questions as where the parental hydrogen of the primeval atom came from and why Man should care so much to find out.

The paradox of science providing Man with the opportunity to examine his human values while exerting pressures that tend to lead him to destroy them was examined by Dr. Bettelheim as he warned against a "punch-card existence."

Until the present, he said, Man was too occupied with keeping alive to have time to consider his humanity or exercise his autonomy.

Science made this possible, but Man, rather than making use of his freedom and his ascendancy over the powers of nature, has abrogated his position as an individual and faces the present and the future with anxiety, disappointment and frustration.

Dr. Bettelheim said Man has an invitation to return to the reached this position by bowing to external forces that have given him the opportunity to avoid making individual decisions and warned this failure to exert individual autonomy over external influence accelerates Man's loss of all autonomy.

To counter this loss of freedom, man must strengthen his consciousness of self, his emotional sensitivity, by exerting his decision-making powers before they atrophy under the pressures of a "punch-card existence" which hides its irrational end of destroying individuality behind the apparently rational purpose of fitting each man into his niche according to the very machines Man should control and enjoy.

Man cannot escape this end, Dr. Bettelheim said, by avoiding consideration of his being and existence by substituting dependence on the machine.

With quiet wit and bright imagery, Nemerov reduced much of the mystery of science to human terms in a poetic demonstration that power is the same whether it is nuclear or governmental.

Begging the poet's prerogative of "dealing with any subject without complete knowledge," Nemerov described Washington, D. C., in terms of an atomic nucleus and discovered the relationship between physical description and the theoretical explanations of the atomic scientist was the fact that both were working with seats of power.

He pointed out Man can extend but he said there can be no war between science and theology since the latter needs the information of the former and science needs the theologian and philosopher's help in answering such questions as where the parental hydrogen of the primeval atom came from and why Man should care so much to find out.

Highway Bill Ignored As Session Nears End

Wednesday night, the Assembly passed a Senate bill which would ban the removal of seat belts from automobiles equipped with the devices at purchase.

The Assembly also completed legislative action on a bill to extend until 1973 leases on cottages on the north shore of Devil's Lake.

The Assembly upheld the governor's veto of a bill which would have allowed a merchant to detain for one half hour persons suspected of shoplifting. The measure would have made store representatives immune from prosecution.

The Assembly passed 79-8 and a bill to allow cities with established health departments to withdraw from the county health agencies.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a bill to authorize the State Building Commission to approve University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee purchase of Downer College campus for $10 million.

The Senate approved and sent to the Assembly a measure providing fines up to $1,000 and jail terms up to one year for persons convicted of damaging telephone equipment or fraudulently using another's credit card or number.

The Senate passed two measures setting new rules for the cosmetology trade. One would make a high school education a necessity for obtaining a cosmetologist or beautician license; the other would bar cosmetology schools from operating in conjunction with a beauty salon.

the tax matter, I was at home in my district preparing for a reelection campaign when I received a long distance phone call from Paul Rogan, vice president of MGIC.

"He urged the purchase of some stock in MGIC as a splendid investment. Mr. Rogan in addition to being an officer of the company was a former commissioner of insurance in Wisconsin and above all a very good and close friend.

"I have every faith in his integrity and judgment. He told me the company was enjoying a splendid growth record, that it foresaw the early possibility of a considerable increase in the value of the stock, and, that in his opinion the purchase would represent a sound investment which would substantially increase in value over the years.

"He told me there was some stock available for purchase directly from the company at a good price. Based on his judgment, and his judgment alone, I agreed then and there to purchase some of the stock.

"Acting on the spur of the moment, I told him I could manage a purchase involving around $2,000, and to go ahead and get me the stock and I would settle with him when the purchase was closed.

"Later, by letter dated Sept. 16, my wife and I received stock certificate 803 for 80 shares of MGIC with a par value of $10 per share and stock certificate 771 for 20 shares of Guaranty Insurance Agency with a par value of $5 a share. As soon as the election was over I got in touch with Mr. Rogan and gave him my personal checks totaling $2,300 in payment for the stocks."

At the conclusion of his speech, Byrnes directed his remarks to the Milwaukee Journal, the Madison Capital Times, the New York Times, the Washington Post and in addition "any other newspaper or magazine which has seen fit to pass moral judgment on me before I could testify in my own behalf."

"I say to them: If I could afford in terms of wealth and pride to do what I have done today, then in all fairness to myself and family you can afford to report fully by printing in its entirety the statement I have made here today. You have a responsibility to produce proof mortgage insurance company.

The following day he said he contacted Rogan and retained an attorney in Milwaukee to investigate and advise him as to the facts that existed at the time he purchased the stock.

"I have learned that at that time no real market had been established, but there were some isolated transactions at substantially higher prices than had paid.

"Under state orders of registration and the prospectus filed with the Security and Exchange Commission, these shares could not be offered at a price other than $2.50 per share on the adjusted basis. That is the price at which the shares were sold to me.

"To my complete dismay, I have also learned that the shares being sold by the company were supposed to be limited to selected executives of mortgage lending institutions. I did not fall in that category.

"These facts should have been disclosed to me at the time the offer was made. They were not. I had no knowledge of them then, nor did I have knowledge of them until I began an investigation of this matter earlier this week.

"I swear before my God and this House that had I known these facts, I would not have bought the stock."

At the conclusion of his speech, Byrnes directed his remarks to the Milwaukee Journal, the Madison Capital Times, the New York Times, the Washington Post and in addition "any other newspaper or magazine which has seen fit to pass moral judgment on me before I could testify in my own behalf."

"I say to them: If I could afford in terms of wealth and pride to do what I have done today, then in all fairness to myself and family you can afford to report fully by printing in its entirety the statement I have made here today. voter reaction to the Kennedy legislative program — including civil rights — and how the President is handling foreign affairs.

The President planned to fly tonight to Houston, where he was scheduled to speak at an "appreciation" dinner for Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex.

In his remarks at the medical center, Kennedy seemed to be answering those in Congress who think too much money is being shot off toward the moon in the space program.

The Senate voted Wednesday to trim $90 million from the program, reducing the total to the $5.1 billion previously approved by the House.

After three days of mingling with Democrats of every stripe, and even a few Republicans, Kennedy can expect to have a more accurate assessment of the reaction of voters in this sprawling segment of the no-longer Solid South to his civil rights proposals, his general legislative program and his handling of world affairs.

The party division over civil rights is illuminated by the fact that Gov. John Connally, who arranged the presidential trip initially, opposes the President's civil rights legislative package.

Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who don't agree on much else, support it.

Hopes for Appleton Tax Cut Vanish; Budget Passes

Optimism in Future Cited at Interview Of Panel Speakers

Harvard's Dr. Shapley Says Moon Race Cost Excessive

A feeling of optimism for the future was expressed by American and the World Community symposium speakers today at a press conference breakfast where Dr. Harlow Shapley objected to the United States' the race to get a man on the moon.

Dr. Shapley of Harvard University, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim of the University of Chicago and Dr. Howard Nemerov of Lawrence College and the Li-sians' recent lack of interest in the race to get a man on the moon.

Dr. Bettelheim said war today only could be the result of an in-conceivable stupidity and declared the whole idea of war has be-dollars in the moon race when, he said, all man needs to know is that the moon can be had for the price of a few dollars.

He spoke Wednesday night at a round-table discussion at the Lawrence chapel when audience members will be able to question them.

Dr. Shapley, this morning, decried the spending of billions of dollars in the moon race when, he said, all man needs to know is that the moon can be had for the price of a few dollars.

He said science, and he especially would like to know four things about the moon to help unravel the mysteries of the universe. These are the depth day.

Rate Set at $46.65; School Funds Replaced, Money Set Aside for Possible Pay Hikes

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Hopes for an Appleton tax cut vanished Wednesday night when the common council adopted a record $9,710,199 budget for 1964 and set the over-all rate at $46.65, the same as this year.

Providing the state sales tax credit refund is $3.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, the net rate to be paid by the city's 18,000 property owners will be $43.15.

Ironically, the budget is $1,646 higher than original departmental requests that totaled $9,838,853.

Actual tax levy for all city purposes, including budgets of all departments, boards and commissions, is $5,755,055, or the equivalent to $39.65 of the rate.

By adding the $7 required by the county and state levies to the city purpose rate, the $46.65 total is arrived at.

Residents of the first precinct in Appleton's 9th Ward, which is in Calumet County, will have a 45-cent drop in its tax rate.

Appleton's tax rate at a glance: On the basis of a net rate of $43.15, arrived at after subtracting the estimated $3.50 state credit refund, an Appleton homeowner with an $8,000 assessed valuation will pay $345.20 in taxes.

Taxes on a home assessed at $10,000 would amount to $431.50.

In the city's first precinct of the 9th Ward, the rate will be 45 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation lower.

Vital statistics: All-city purposes $39.65; County-state levies 7.00; Gross rate $46.65; Less estimated refund 3.50; Net rate $43.15.

The 1964 budget: $9,710,199; Difference compared to 1963: Up $812,000; Actual tax levy: $5,755,055; Appleton's assessed valuation: $115,113,575.

Will a junior college program become part of the vocational and adult school program in Wisconsin?

This possibility was discussed around by the Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education Wednesday during a discussion of long-range planning for the school.

Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz, a board member, noted that junior college programs are expected to grow throughout the nation, and asked if this may someday become part of the vocational schools responsibility in Wisconsin.

C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education, who attended the meeting said the only phase of a junior college program not now offered by the vocational schools, except in Milwaukee, is the two-year college transfer program.

Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, a member of the coordinating committee on higher education and also a guest at the meeting, said the long-range plan today does not include transfer programs for the vocational schools, but does not prohibit their development of two-year general education programs.

Salary policies of the Appleton Board of Education were both denounced and defended Wednesday night as the common council reluctantly restored $10,000 of the $60,000 originally deleted during hearings on the 1964 budget.

Meeting as a committee of the whole prior to adopting the budget, the council beat down a plan. The council gave tentative approval to a $96,400 contract with a St. Louis firm to prepare the plan. Appleton will be reimbursed by the federal state governments for two-thirds the cost.

The council also concurred in the recommendation of the Chamber group the consulting firm be advised to work on the comprehensive plan as quickly as possible "without jeopardizing the integrity of the planning program."

City officials have indicated that more than one citizens group will be appointed to advise the council on implementing the plan once it is completed.

The campaign itself will be run from state headquarters. Thus, said Peterson, it will have greater continuity and harmony. A wide area telephone service will be employed to make contacts during the campaign and substantially reduce long distance telephone call costs.

"The only thing that counts is to win," said Peterson, and we must do anything we feel we must do to win in '64 short of unethical tactics."

Outagamie County Chairman John Conway said the county GOP cannot sit back because the party always has carried the day. He indicated that a strong vote in Fox Valley counties was needed to offset opposition stronghold votes downstate.

Peterson is in St. Louis today at a meeting of Midwest Republican leaders. In his five months as state GOP chairman, Peterson has traveled 15,000 miles and has met more than 5,000 fellow Republicans.

Speaker on Red Threat Excites OSC Audience; Faced Spirited Queries

Negro Minister Criticizes Kennedy, King, Khrushchev

OSHKOSH — A cozy gathering since it was of Oshkosh State College the federal government that per-students and faculty was treated mitted legalized segregation in to a dissertation on Communist the first place. Martin Luther King over alleged acceptance of Communist money, Fields added he did not believe spoke on what he called "The King was either a Communist New KKK, Kennedy, King and or a Christian."

He said the three embraced one battle after another without almost the entire world and "all risking the life of a single Russian, the Rev. Fields stated, same terms—paranoia, power, mad, schizophrenic."

He said the federal government should get out of the de-Street, Fond du Lac.

The board has considered putting an addition on the present main building, but decided first to make an extensive study of future needs, including the increased emphasis on area schools.

AVS Director Carl Bertram said the board realizes the present facilities are inadequate for the present program. In planning for expansion, however, the board must consider the changing program with its increasing number of fulltime post high school students and increasing number of non-resident students, he said.

"The board here does not feel it can act without regard to the educational interests of the communities of Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and Kimberly," he said.

George Howden, board president, told Greiber the board wants "benchmarks" established on its area of responsibility in the future, what its relations should be with the other Fox Cities, what its relations should be with the UW centers and the state colleges, to avoid duplication, and what will be future curriculum requirements.

Present Building Inadequate For Probable Needs in 1970

The Appleton Vocational and Adult School should undertake to provide technical education for apprentices and adults. How-ever, the Fox Cities area, C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education, recommended Wednesday.

Speaking to the Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education, Greiber recommended that this be started with the present administrative setup of vocational schools in the area, but that the board look ahead to some form of area organization.

Greiber told the board here is not room for necessary expansion or parking at the present school site. "This board would be making a serious mistake if it put a substantial amount of money in this building and thought the building would meet the needs adequately in 1970," he said. "I think the building would be inadequate even if it were remodeled."

Difficult to Expand "I think you would have difficulty expanding this facility to the size it would have to be to serve the needs 10 years from now," he said later. "You are hemmed in by the location."

The Appleton board asked Greiber to advise it on its long-range planning for the school's future programs and necessary facilities. Also attending the meeting in an advisory capacity was Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, a member of the state college board of regents and the coordinating committee for higher education.

Talbot Peterson Lists Four Keys to State GOP Victory

Says Party Needs Organization, Funds, Unity, Responsibility

SEYMOUR — Four keys to a 1964 Republican victory in Wisconsin were outlined to Outagamie County Republicans meeting here Tuesday by state GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton.

More than 100 attended the monthly meeting, at which Peterson outlined GOP campaign plans. Peterson called his four keys funds, organizations, unity and responsibility. He told of growing enthusiasm among state Republicans as evidenced at recent party meetings and speaking engagements of major GOP candidates.

Vast sums of money will be needed in the statewide campaign. The state organization is shooting at a working fund of $100,000 for each statewide candidate. Peterson said expensive television spots will be secured before the election, but first great strides will be needed in fund-raising campaigns.

Peterson warned that the party could not depend upon a few large contributors to carry the campaign. He said the party's funds must come from individual Republicans.

Precinct organizations will be beefed up along with neighborhood vote and fund solicitation drives. He said that party workers must orient themselves to the major goals of the state GOP will be to enroll 106,000 paid members or 10 per cent of the vote from the last general election.

The campaign itself will be run from state headquarters. Thus, said Peterson, it will have greater continuity and harmony. A wide area telephone service will be employed to make contacts during the campaign and substantially reduce long distance telephone call costs.

"The only thing that counts is to win," said Peterson, and we must do anything we feel we must do to win in '64 short of unethical tactics."

Outagamie County Chairman John Conway said the county GOP cannot sit back because the party always has carried the day. He indicated that a strong vote in Fox Valley counties was needed to offset opposition stronghold votes downstate.

Payne's Point Youth Dies in One-Car Crash

Railing Penetrates Windshield Killing Larry Kortness, 18

NEENAH — Larry L. Kortness, 18, route 1, Payne's Point, was fatally injured Wednesday night when a wooden culvert bridge railing went through the windshield of the car in which he was a passenger and struck him in the head.

The accident happened about 10 p.m. on Wooden Shoe Road, south of Brezewood Lane at the town line between the Towns of Neenah and Viroqua.

The car was driven by David E. Missall, 18, 1306 Glenview Drive, Neenah. Kortness was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital in the Neenah City ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival there. Missall also was taken to Theda Clark hospital for observation and possible shock. He was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Rail Pierces Car
According to Winnebago County police, the car was traveling north on Wooden Shoe Road and went off the east side of the road, hitting the railing.

One of the wooden railings pierced the right headlight but did not penetrate into the car. The second railing went through the windshield, hitting Kortness running through the car and out the back window.

His death was the 20th highway fatality in Winnebago County this year, one more than at the same time last year. It was the third traffic death in less than a week for Winnebago County.

Both Kortness and Missall were graduates of Neenah High School in the Class of 1963 and were teammates on Neenah High School football teams.

Kortness, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kortness, Payne's Point, was born at Stevens Point March 7, 1945 and lived in Menasha before coming to Neenah three years ago. Survivors are his parents, a brother, a sister and his maternal grandparents.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Kessler Funeral Home with the Rev. Bryce G. Armstrong, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church officiating. Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Friday.

Menasha Yule Lights To Glow on Nov. 29

MENASHA — The festive glow will shine from downtown Menasha's Christmas decorations Nov. 29, Mayor John Klein announced today.

Two men from the water and light utilities and two men from the Menasha street department are working on the decorations in "spare" moments until that time. The crews are squeezing this work into a busy schedule and the mayor is confident that the button can be pressed lighting up the city the day after Thanksgiving.

A Passenger in the Car Above, Larry Kortness, 18, of Payne's Point, Neenah, was killed when the car left a Town of Neenah road about 10 p.m. Wednesday and a culvert wooden guard rail went through the windshield and out of the back window. Kortness was struck by rail extending through the window. Another rail pierced the right front headlight but did not enter the passenger area of the car. David Missall, a 1963 Neenah High School classmate of Kortness, was driver of the car. (TCNR Staff Photo)

State Youth Group to Sponsor April Convention in Menasha

Expect 2,000 Young People At Three Day Conference

MENASHA — Youth will be heard. The Wisconsin State Youth Conference, April 2 through April 4, will be the next sounding board and an estimated 2,000 young people from throughout the state will converge on Menasha to express their views.

The convention is sponsored by the Wisconsin Youth Committee, formed by four representatives from the 10 existing districts. District four, made up of youth from Calumet, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Washington and Winnebago Counties will be host to the 1964 conference, held on alternating years with the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth.

While similar to the Governor's conference in structure, the State Youth Conference places a special emphasis on youth. Not only do the problems discussed during this conference concern youth, the entire conference is run by them. They serve as workshop chairmen, panel members and even keynote speakers.

Chinese Papermen Spend 2-Day Jaunt In Twin City Mills

NEENAH — A group of paper industry leaders from the Republic of China spent two days observing the manufacture of paper in the Twin Cities Tuesday and Wednesday as part of tour arranged by the Agency for International Development, Department of State.

The team visited Kimberly-Clark Corp. on Tuesday to observe the manufacture of paper and cellulose products. Wednesday morning the group visited Menasha Mill Supply Co., a subsidiary of the U.S. Paper Mills Corp., where they observed waste paper reactivation and sorting, classification and baling.

After a noon luncheon at Hotel Menasha at which Menasha Mill Supply and Bergstrom Paper Co. officials were hosts the group toured the paper mills of the Bergstrom Paper Co. in Neenah as well as the finishing plant off Highway 41. At the Bergstrom mill they observed the manufacture of uncoated book paper, safety papers, off-

Preliminary Use Plan Ready On Farm Site

Schools, Wooded Park Area, Pool, Golf Course Shown

NEENAH — Four preliminary drawings for the Swatscheno Farm site have been submitted to the city officials. Neenah Council and school board for consideration before final arrangements are made for the 180 tract.

Ralph H. Burke, Park Ridge, Ill., planners for the site, prepared the alternate drawings as promised two weeks ago when they met with city officials, the school board and school architects.

"We have based our layouts on the requirements as outlined at the council meeting Nov. 5," A. J. Koca, firm representative said in a letter to R. V. Hauser, city clerk, which accompanied the plans.

All four possibilities include the same setup of activities—junior and senior high school, wooded park area, swimming pool and golf course—in approximately the same general area.

The 60 acre schools' site in all four plans is located in the eastern half of the tract either extending the whole north to south length of the area or westward along the southern border.

Park area in the wooded sector is the same in all the plans. This part lies fairly close to the middle of the whole Swatscheno tract.

Golf Course
A nine-hole golf course winds through the area not occupied by the schools or park and is mostly contained in the western half of the area. The course varies from 3,215 yards to 2,859 yards in the four drawings.

The plans include possible expansion of the golf course to 9 additional holes in adjacent areas.

Bergstrom Dividend Up 5 Cents Per Share

NEENAH — Directors of the Bergstrom Paper Co. have declared a fourth quarter dividend of 15 cents per share, plus a 5-cent extra dividend, on the company's class A and B common stock. The dividends will be payable Dec. 16 to stockholders of record Dec. 2.

The swimming pool is located in the school area so that duplicate use may be made of the school's shower facilities.

Parking lots are located in various parts of the tract and vary in size from a 40 car lot in the park to 320 car lots near the schools and golf course.

All plans include one road which enters from the east side (Tullar Road) and either terminates in the park area or extends through the area coming out on the east side.

School Fields
The school facilities in all the drawings include football, track, baseball and open field game areas as well as tennis, volleyball and outdoor basketball courts.

Copies of the four drawings have been sent to the school board architects, Warren Holmes Co., Lansing, Mich. Koca said in the letter to Hauser. The next move is for the city council to approve the plans and give the school board the go-ahead in planning the junior high school.

Malcolm Williams of the Holmes firm recently said that he would need four months to design the school.

Lawrence Says Kennedy Gave Wrong Fiscal Comparisons

Left Erroneous Impressions in Florida Speeches

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy would not intentionally mislead the American people about the finances of the government of the United States—but unfortunately, some of his speechwriters have given a wrong comparison of the way the federal government and private business, respectively, handle their debts.

Mr. Kennedy in a speech on Monday before the Florida Chamber of Commerce, gave the impression that the federal government is a better "fiscal manager" than private business. He said:

"While the federal net debt was growing less than 20 per cent in these years (1948 to 1962), total corporate debt—not my debt, your debt—was growing by nearly 200 per cent and the total indebtedness of private individuals rose by 300 per cent. So who is the most cautious fiscal manager?"

No Parallel

There is no real parallel. What Mr. Kennedy failed to make clear was that during all this time, while corporations and individuals were increasing their debts, they were also paying off their loans or mortgages or were borrowing money to acquire new assets. The federal government, on the other hand, was borrowing money almost entirely to refund past loans, but not to reduce debt.

During these very years—1948 to 1962—when the total corporate debt was rising by $228 billion, these same corporations earned $291 billion in profits after taxes. In contrast, the federal government during that same period had total budget deficits of $41 billion and at the same time added $54 billion to the gross public debt.

No business could borrow money if it did not reduce its past debts out of its surpluses. An increase in corporate debt is based upon the expectation of repayment of this same debt in a specified time. A very small part of any such indebtedness is refinanced without at least a substantial payment on the principal.

But the federal government makes no such curtailment of its principal and keeps on borrowing more and more money, incurring more and more deficits and increasing its total debt.

Any business which attempted to finance itself on the pattern of the federal government would certainly not be able to borrow any money in the capital markets today or at any other time. Thus, the federal government in fiscal year 1963 piled up a gross borrowing of $227 billion, of which less than $8 billion represented growth in the net debt. The remaining $219 billion was borrowed to refund existing debt.

Corporations, on the other hand have been paying off a substantial part of their loans and their increased debt represents investment in new projects—new plants and equipment or new enterprises.

Wrong Comparison

It is incorrect, therefore to compare corporate financing with that of the federal government and say that the latter is better because it did not increase its debt as much as did the private sector in the economy. Individuals may incur debt by borrowing to buy their homes, but they earn enough money after expenses to make regular payments on the mortgages and at the same time to buy an automobile and pay for it in two or three years. Nobody could buy an automobile in 1948 and fail to pay it off by 1962. And yet the federal government has merely borrowed the same amount of money to refund or replace the previous indebtedness, so that the total amount of the 1948 debt remains on the books, plus increased borrowings of $54 billion since 1948.

President Kennedy also gave an erroneous impression when he discussed profits. He has done so on several occasions lately in discussing this subject. He said to the Florida Chamber of Commerce:

Erroneous Impression

"Why is it that profits are at an all-time high in the nation today? It is because the nation as a whole is prospering."

What Mr. Kennedy did not tell the American people is that profits in a realistic sense are way below what they were a few years ago.

Thus, manufacturing corporations from 1955 to 1957—which was an era of sustained economic activity and relatively full employment—earned 52 per cent of their sales and 11.7 cents per dollar on their net worth. It is to be noted that in 1963, "confused" by the issue of manufacturing corporations, after two years of so-called economic recovery, profits are 4.5 per cent of the gross national product. This is only a slight rise from the 4.2 per cent reported in 1961, which was the lowest and the period following World War II. It is illogical to boast about the amount of total profit which is down considerably from the 11.7 per cent average of the 1955-1957 period. The actual percentage of profit on sales made remains well below the 1955-1957 average of 11.7 per cent on their investment is to (Copyright, 1963)

Payne's Point Youth Dies in One-Car Crash

Railing Penetrates Windshield Killing Larry Kortness, 18

NEENAH — Larry L. Kortness, 18, route 1, Payne's Point, was fatally injured Wednesday night when a wooden culvert bridge railing went through the windshield of the car in which he was a passenger and struck him in the head.

The accident happened about 10 p.m. on Wooden Shoe Road, south of Brezewood Lane at the town line between the Towns of Neenah and Vinland.

The car was driven by David E. Missall, 18, 1306 Glenview Drive. Kortness was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital in the Neenah City ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival there. Missall also was taken to Theda Clark hospital for observation and possible shock. He was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Rail Pierces Car
According to Winnebago County police, the car was traveling north on Wooden Shoe Road and went off the east side of the road, hitting the railing.

One of the wooden railings pierced the right headlight but did not penetrate into the car. The second railing went through the windshield, hitting Kortness running through the car and out the back window.

His death was the 20th highway fatality in Winnebago County this year, one more than at the same time last year. It was the third traffic death in less than a week for Winnebago County.

Both Kortness and Missall were graduates of Neenah High School in the Class of 1963 and were teammates on Neenah High School football teams.

Kortness, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kortness, Payne's Point, was born at Stevens Point, March 7, 1945 and lived in Menasha before coming to Neenah three years ago. Survivors are his parents, a brother, a sister and his maternal grandparents.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Kessler Funeral Home with the Rev. Bryce G. Armstrong, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church officiating. Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Friday.

Menasha Yule Lights To Glow on Nov. 29

MENASHA — The festive glow will shine from downtown Menasha's Christmas decorations Nov. 29, Mayor John Klein announced today.

Two men from the water and light utilities and two men from the Menasha street department are working on the decorations in "spare" moments until that time. The crews are squeezing this work into a busy schedule and the mayor is confident that the button can be pressed lighting up the city the day after Thanksgiving.

A Passenger in the Car Above, Larry Kortness, 18, of Payne's Point, Neenah, was killed when the car left a Town of Neenah road about 10 p.m. Wednesday and a culvert wooden guard rail went through the windshield and out of the back window. Kortness was struck by rail extending through the window. Another rail pierced the right front headlight but did not enter the passenger area of the car. David Missall, a 1963 Neenah High School classmate of Kortness, was driver of the car. (TCNR Staff Photo)

State Youth Group to Sponsor April Convention in Menasha

Expect 2,000 Young People At Three Day Conference

MENASHA — Youth will be heard. The Wisconsin State of Youth Conference, April 2 through April 4, will be the next sounding board and an estimated 2,000 young people from throughout the state will converge on Menasha to express their views.

The convention is sponsored by the Wisconsin Youth Committee, formed by four representatives from the 10 existing districts. District four, made up of youth from Calumet, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Washington and Winnebago Counties will be host to the 1964 conference, held on alternating years with the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth.

While similar to the Governor's conference in structure the State Youth Conference places a special emphasis on youth. Not only do the problems discussed during this conference concern youth, the entire conference is run by them. They serve as workshop chairmen, panel members and even keynote speakers.

William Fitzpatrick, chairman of District IV, Menasha High

Councilmen Amend 3 Neenah Ordinances

NEENAH — Three Neenah ordinances were amended in council action Wednesday night, one each governing traffic speed, commercial zoning and parking districts.

Speed regulations for a section of W. Cecil Street from Harrison Avenue to U.S. 41 was raised from 25 mph to 30 mph and the traffic ordinance amended to include this area.

Property on the west side of S. Commercial Street including the Northwestern Cash Register

Co. land and extending north to W. Peckham Street was rezoned to commercial from residential.

The land rezoned fronts on S. Commercial Street and goes to a depth of 155 feet except for one lot on the corner of Peckham which is 170 feet deep.

Neenah's parking district ordinance was amended to include four Third Ward lots in the Lincoln - Second Streets area.

City Clerk R. V. Hauser announced the final reports for sewer installation, water main and grading work in the Southview Plat, and sanitary sewer installation on S. Park Avenue.

The reports included announcement of the recommended assessments to be made for covering the cost of the projects. The projects in Southview Plat include street construction, grading and graveling on Byrd Avenue, Stanley, Bell, Collins, Henry Bruce and Ames Streets. Cost of the project will be $32,140 and the assessments per front foot of $1.62.

Sanitary sewer construction in the same area will cost $60,264 with an assessment of $3.48. Lateral construction will cost $24,659 which figures to $119.13 per lateral.

Water main installation will also take place on the aforementioned streets as well as on S. Commercial Street from Alcott Drive to Stanley Street.

A sanitary sewer project on S. Park Avenue from Cecil Street to the north line of Chatham Court and sanitary sewer, sewer lateral and water tap work on S. Park Avenue in the Meadowbrook Drive area will be assessed at $7.25 per foot for the sanitary sewer and $170.50 each for the sewer lateral.

In other council action a sidewalk license was awarded to Rewey Construction, and new councilman Sidney Donaldson was appointed to the health and welfare, and street and sanitation committee to replace the recently resigned Ald. Florian Jabas.

Preliminary Use Plan Ready On Farm Site

Schools, Wooded Park Area, Pool, Golf Course Shown

NEENAH — Four preliminary drawings for the Swatscheno Farm site have been submitted to the city officials. Neenah Council and school board for consideration before final arrangements are made for the 180 tract.

Ralph H. Burke, Park Ridge, Ill., planners for the site, prepared the alternate drawings as promised two weeks ago when they met with city officials, the school board and school architects.

"We have based our layouts on the requirements as outlined at the council meeting Nov. 5," A. J. Koca, firm representative said in a letter. To R. V. Hauser, city clerk, which accompanied the plans.

All four possibilities include the same setup of activities—Warren junior and senior high school, wooded park area, swimming pool and golf course—in approximately the same general area.

The 60 acre schools' site in all four plans is located in the eastern half of the tract either extending the whole north to south length of the area or westward along the southern border.

Park area in the wooded sector is the same in all the plans. This part lies fairly close to the middle of the whole Swatscheno tract.

Golf Course
A nine-hole golf course winds through the area not occupied by the schools or park and is mostly contained in the western half of the area. The course varies from 3,215 yards to 2,859 yards in the four drawings.

The plans include possible expansion of the golf course to 9 additional holes in adjacent areas.

set papers, and office printing paper. Today the group left for Madison to view the Forest Products Laboratory.

Bergstrom Dividend Up 5 Cents Per Share

NEENAH — Directors of the Bergstrom Paper Co. have declared a fourth quarter dividend of 15 cents per share, plus a 5 cent extra dividend, on the company's class A and B common stock. The dividends will be payable Dec. 16 to stockholders of record Dec. 2.

The swimming pool is located in the school area so that duplicate use may be made of the school's shower facilities.

Parking lots are located in various parts of the tract and vary in size from a 40 car lot in the park to 320 car lots near to the schools and golf course.

All plans include one road which enters from the east side (Tullar Road) and either terminates in the park area or extends through the area coming out on the east side.

School Fields
The school facilities in all the drawings include football, track, baseball and open field game areas as well as tennis, volleyball and outdoor basketball courts.

Copies of the four drawings have been sent to the school board architects, Warren Holmes Co., Lansing, Mich. Koca said in the letter to Hauser. The next move is for the city council to approve the plans and give the school board the go-ahead in planning the junior high school.

Malcolm Williams of the Holmes firm recently said that he would need four months to design the school.

Kennedy Gave Wrong Fiscal Comparisons

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy would not intentionally mislead the American people about the finances of the government of the United States—but unfortunately, some of his speechwriters have given a wrong comparison of the way the federal government and private business, respectively, handle their debts.

Mr. Kennedy, in a speech on Monday before the Florida Chamber of Commerce, gave the impression that the federal government is a better "fiscal manager" than private business. He said:

"While the federal net debt was growing less than 20 per cent in these years (1948 to 1962), total corporate debt—not my debt, your debt—was growing by nearly 200 per cent and the total indebtedness of private individuals rose by 300 per cent. So who is the most cautious fiscal manager?"

No Parallel

There is no real parallel. What Mr. Kennedy failed to make clear was that during all this time, while corporations and individuals were increasing their debts, they were also paying off their loans or mortgages or were borrowing money to acquire new assets. The federal government, on the other hand, was borrowing money almost entirely to refund past loans, but not to reduce debt.

During these very years—1948 to 1962—when the total corporate debt was rising by $228 billion, these same corporations earned $291 billion in profits after taxes. In contrast, the federal government during that same period had total budget deficits of $41 billion and at the same time added $54 billion to the gross public debt.

No business could borrow money if it did not reduce its past debts out of its surpluses. An increase in corporate debt is based upon the expectation of repayment of this same debt in a specified time. A very small part of any such indebtedness is refinanced without at least a substantial payment on the principal.

But the federal government makes no such curtailment of its principal and keeps on borrowing more and more money, incurring more and more deficits, and increasing its total debt.

Any business which attempted to finance itself on the pattern of the federal government would certainly not be able to borrow any money in the capital markets today or at any other time. Thus, the federal government in fiscal year 1963 piled up a gross borrowing of $227 billion, of which less than $8 billion represented growth in the net debt. The remaining $219 billion was borrowed to refund existing debt.

Corporations, on the other hand, have been paying off a substantial part of their loans, and their increased debt represents investment in new projects—new plants and equipment or new enterprises.

Wrong Comparison

It is incorrect, therefore, to compare corporate financing with that of the federal government and say that the latter is better because it did not increase its debt as much as did the private sector in the economy. Individuals may incur debt by borrowing to buy their homes, but they earn enough money after expenses to make regular payments on the mortgages and at the same time to buy an automobile and pay for it in two or three years. Nobody could buy an automobile in 1948 and fail to pay it off by 1962. And yet the federal government has merely borrowed the same amount of money to refund or replace the previous indebtedness, so that the total amount of the 1948 debt remains on the books, plus increased borrowings of $54 billion since 1948.

President Kennedy also gave an erroneous impression when he discussed profits. He has done so on several occasions lately in discussing this subject. He said to the Florida Chamber of Commerce:

Erroneous Impression

"Why is it that profits are at an all-time high in the nation today? It is because the nation as a whole is prospering."

What Mr. Kennedy did not tell the American people is that profits in a realistic sense are way below what they were a few years ago.

Thus, manufacturing corporations from 1955 to 1957—which was an era of sustained economic activity and relatively full employment—earned 5.2 per cent of their sales and 11.7 cents per dollar on their net worth.

But since the year 1957 profits of manufacturing corporations have been at relatively depressed levels. For the last six years, they have averaged only 4.5 per cent of sales. This means that profits are 15 per cent below the 5.2 average of the 1955-1957 period. The profits also have been only 9.3 per cent of net worth, which is down considerably from the 11.7 per cent average of the 1955-1957 period.

It is to be noted that in 1963, "confused" the issue. It is like saying after two years of so-called economic recovery, profits are 4.5 per cent of the gross national product. This is only a slight rise from the 4.2 per cent reported in 1961, which was the lowest figure in the period following World War II.

To lay stress on the gross total of profits without regard to whether individual companies are making a satisfactory profit on their investment is to

Labor, Management Have Learned to Work Together

Not a Perpetual Peace, but Economic Debates Are Fruitful

BY DARDEN CHAMBLISS — It used to be politically smart to blame everything on business. Now it is going out of men, but we're getting away from that now.

No Claghorns
Thomas Moses, president of the Investors Diversified Services, Minneapolis-based mutual fund, says "You don't run into Claghorns in Congress anymore. I think 95 per cent of those fellows really want to hear the business view of things."

William Wollbach, youthful president of the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., says he sees tax changes last year on depreciation investment as revealing a better appreciation of the value of profits.

Better Relationships
As a consequence of better working relationships "the fruits of industry are being better shared among consumers, investors and the laborer," says President Raymond Perring of Detroit Bank Trust Co. And the strong rate of business activity, he says, reflects this balance.

That is the picture businessmen drew of business, labor and government relations in interviews during a coast-to-coast survey of economic thinking.

Differences Possible
These businessmen say they're aware that others might not see things as they do. And they say they're not suggesting that perpetual peace has been declared. They still disagree with government and labor on many issues and expect more clashes with both in the future.

Businessmen say they are encouraged in that debates today are conducted more fruitfully than the brickbat bashes of a few years ago.

Businessmen haven't forgotten the clash of 1962, when President Kennedy moved against a steel price increase with public attacks on steel leaders and pressure from the Justice Department and other agencies.

Wound Healed
"But the wound is pretty well healed," says Vice President William Butler of Chase Manhattan Bank.

"I think we learned something from that snafu," says Paul McCracken of the University of Michigan and a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under Dwight D. Eisenhower. Many people felt both sides were wrong, he said.

"It will be a long time before you see another one like it," Borg-Warner's Ingersoll says working hours. They disagree, too, that labor's share of the nation's income is too small to stimulate economic growth.

Businessmen say they accordingly expect to collide with labor again and again. In fact, one area in which business and labor appear in firm agreement is that there is no acceptable substitute for strike-threat, two-sided collective bargaining.

Economic Change
But the important thing, businessmen say, is that they have learned to work with labor on the complex problems that economic change creates without the heated slugfests that have marked past wage disputes.

Labor has come to recognize the importance of efficiency in beating a competitor's price, and management has come to understand better the human issues involved, businessmen say.

In San Francisco, an industrialist spelled out what this can mean. He nodded toward the Bay visible between the drapes on his corner suite and talked of dock strife.

Over Pricing
"We have featherbedding and waste you wouldn't believe. We were pricing ourselves out of business," he said.

But the unions had reasons for doing what they did, he said.

"That's mean work, stevedoring. They wanted to make it easier," he said. "There wasn't any pension plan and you'd see guys 70, even 80 years old coming down to the docks for work. They couldn't break these guys' backs so the union made work for them. It seemed the humane thing to do."

Then came a new contract that provided for early retirement, pensions and training programs in exchange for full cooperation in using labor-saving dock equipment and techniques.

Costs Trimmed
As a result, he said, costs have been trimmed, turnaround time for ships have been shaved and the port is beginning to regain its traffic.

Business and labor leaders say these agreements involve a step at a time and battling out differences that will have to be gone through time and again.

Cooperation Necessary
Businessmen say that cooperation is important also in business relations with labor. They feel that significant strides have been made.

They comment that they still disagree strongly with labor on several basic issues. Businessmen oppose the 35-hour week and other efforts to reduce

New Concept Blames All of Mankind for Christ's Death

Church Efforts Try to Lift Responsibility For Crucifixion From Shoulders of Jews

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL

If Jesus had lived in the modern age, he "might have died in the concentration camps of World War II." His mother, Mary, might have perished "in the gas chambers." His apostles "would have met their martyrdom, not at the hands of the Romans, but in the ovens of the Christian world."

They were Jews.

The lines speculating about how they might have fared in the present century were part of a television drama sponsored some time ago by the National Council of Catholic Men.

Major Effort

It reflects a major effort going on today—in Protestantism, Orthodoxy and Roman Catholicism—to get rid of a twisted note that has at times erroneously been presented in the name of Christianity—blaming Jews for opposition to Christ and his death.

Church scholars point out that the notion is a flagrant contradiction of Christian doctrine—which teaches that Christ died because of the sins of all mankind. This has been the basic teaching of Christianity from the beginning.

"To exclude oneself from a part in the Crucifixion is to exclude oneself from a part in the redemption," said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John M. Oesterreicher, director of the Institute of Judeo-Christian Studies.

Accusations

Nevertheless, church leaders note that down through church history, superficial interpretations and accusatory inferences about the Jews have cropped up recurrently, fanning religious antagonisms.

It has resulted from a "misuse of Christian teaching," says the Rev. Dr. John C. Bennett, of Union Theological Seminary. The churches are trying to stamp out the distortion of their faith.

This objective was behind last week's introduction of a document at the Second Vatican Council in Rome, citing the church's "deep bond" with Judaism, and emphasizing that "the responsibility for Christ's death fall upon sinful mankind."

Old Concept

There is nothing new about this concept—it is standard Christian theology, and always has been.

Roman Catholicism simply is trying to correct false implications about the matter. Other churches have been taking similar steps.

At the 1961 assembly of the World Council of Churches, representatives of most major Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox churches made a similar declaration.

Historic Events

"In Christian teaching the historic events which led to the Crucifixion should not be so presented as to fasten upon the Jewish people responsibilities which belong to our corporate humanity, and not to one race or community," it said.

"Jews were the first to accept party, the Sadducees, which ultimately was repudiated by Judaism.

However, combinations of church and state arising after 300 A.D. set off a long, dismal chain of persecutions of Jews, which went on sporadically for 1,500 years, erupting again in 1933.

Says church historian Robert T. Handy: "In its long-time definitive context, it is one of the most glaring religious perversions of all history, a kind of religious patricide, by offspring against its parent stock."

But he says there is a "very in its limited historical setting, healthy, strong counter trend in it actually was carried out by the Christian faith. There's a Roman troops, on orders of a deeper awareness among Roman occupation governor. Christians that the roots of their abetted by a collaborationist faith lie in Israel."

No Change in U.S. Viet Nam Attitude

U. S. Policy and Economic Aid Will Remain the Same

BY MALCOLM BARR
HONOLULU (AP) — South Viet Nam's change in government won't affect the United States attitude in the troubled Southeast Asia country, the U.S. State Department says.

Reporting on Wednesday's top-level meeting of diplomatic and military officials in Honolulu, Robert Manning, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, said the meeting produced no proposals for major changes in U.S. policy in Viet Nam. He said he sees no changes in economic aid "in the foreseeable future."

The conference drew together Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S.

McNamara, Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Maj. Gen. Paul D. Harkins, head of the U.S. military advisory group in Viet Nam, Adm. Harry D. Felt, Pacific military commander, and other top-drawer civilian and military officials from Saigon, Washington, D.C., and Honolulu.

McNamara Leaves
McNamara left Wednesday night for Washington immediately after the meeting to report to President Kennedy.

Manning's report described the day-long sessions as "more of a discussion than an arrival at a full set of finished decisions."

He said the conference produced "the raw material for recommendations" to be made to the President when McNamara, Rusk and Lodge arrive in Washington.

Rusk's return will be delayed by a visit with five other Cabinet members to Japan. Lodge is expected to confer with the President after his return to Washington Friday.

A statement on the conference by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public information said in part: "In general, information received at the conference indicates an encouraging outlook for the principle of joint U.S.-Vietnamese policy in South Viet Nam — that is, the successful prosecution of the war against the Viet Cong Communists."

While he was seeing McNamara off, Adm. Felt was asked after Sen. John Potter, R-Port if the phrase "successful prosecution of the war" meant a speedup in activity against the Communist North Vietnamese.

"We hope there is a speedup. There is no reason why there should not be," Felt replied.

Proxmire and Nelson Agree On Space Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin's Democratic Sens. William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson were in agreement Wednesday on slashing of $5.19 billion appropriations bills for the civilian space program.

Proxmire voted with the minority and Nelson was recorded in agreement with his state colleague as the Senate rejected 46-36 an amendment to cut $519 million from the bill.

Then Proxmire introduced an amendment to cut $90 million from the measure. It passed 40-39, with Nelson recorded in favor while paired with an absent Republican who was opposed.

Proxmire, waging a light to trim appropriations, lost another fight. His amendment to cut some $30 million from the $770 million for the Federal Aviation Agency was rejected on a voice vote.

Reynolds Veto On Tax Relief Bill Overridden

MADISON (AP) — The Senate overrode a veto by Gov. John Reynolds on a resounding 28-4 vote Wednesday in support of a bill to allow medical research hospitals to be excused from property taxes if governing municipalities approve.

The Senate acted and sent the veto measure to the Assembly after Sen. John Potter, R-Port if the phrase "successful prosecution of the war" meant a speedup in activity against the Communist North Vietnamese.

The non-profit clinic now is subject to property taxes because it does not have 20 beds as required by law to gain an exemption.

A Bandit Wearing White Coveralls robbed the Moreland Avenue branch of the Bank of Georgia of $2,500 Wednesday. Branch Manager C. H. Johnson said the robber approached him with a note and a pistol and demanded the money. The unidentified bandit is still at large. The FBI said the above picture was made by a camera hidden in the bank. (AP Wirephoto)

Coast Guard Finds Debris of U2 180 Miles North of Cuba

Defense Department Says No Evidence Craft Was Downed by Hostile Actions

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard cutter Nemesis picked up debris today near the spot where a U2 plane, presumably returning from a mission over Cuba, vanished Wednesday over the Gulf of Mexico.

In announcing the find, the Navy declined to identify or give any details about the debris. It was found 40 miles northwest of Key West and 180 miles north of the Cuba coast, in 60-foot deep water.

The Pentagon in Washington said it had nothing to indicate the fate of the pilot. The U2 is a one-man plane.

No Evidence
The Strategic Air Command and the Defense Department said there was no evidence that the plane was downed by hostile action. A spokesman at SAC's Omaha headquarters said that was only setting up offensive bases on the island.

was caused by mechanical failure.

A Cuban radio report said merely that a U2 "which might have been on reconnaissance activities over Cuba," crashed in the Gulf. It quoted Washington reports that "it is presumed the plane plunged into the sea due to a mechanical fault."

At 10:32 a.m. Wednesday, the plane vanished from radar scopes. Eight minutes later, another plane spotted an oil slick in the area.

Three Navy air-sea rescue planes joined in the search.

SAC called the plane a WU2, U2s which first showed definite signs of trouble. The Soviet Union was at which must be completed within six months for the military program.

Cambodian Envoy Denies His Country Turned Back on West

Technical Experts, Not Military Aid to Be Sought From China, Diplomat States

BY SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Cambodia has not turned its back on the West in asking a termination of American military and economic aid, Ambassador Mong Kimny said today.

The veteran diplomat said he assured the State Department that Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has no intention of rushing into the arms of the Communists.

"All we want is to be left alone," Kimny said in an interview. "Let our friends judge us by the success or failure of our policies."

Peace in Cambodia
"They see a war in South Viet Nam and they see civil strife in Laos while in Cambodia they see we have peace."

Kimny has represented his country here for 11 years and played leading roles in the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina and the 1961-62 Geneva conference which established the neutrality of Laos.

Sihanouk has no plan to ask for military aid from Communist China, Kimny said, but Peking may be asked to send "a few technical experts — not military."

"In our agreement on military aid with the United States there is a provision that Cambodia must not receive aid from any of the Socialist countries," the ambassador said. "In point of fact, this meant we were not neutral."

Peking Assistance
For this reason, he said Sihanouk has decided he would not ask for Peking's military assistance because such an appeal "means that Cambodia would then become a satellite of the United States, in a swift reply to Sihanouk's request for termination of U.S. aid, agreed to undertake talks at once on an orderly withdrawal of U.S. economic and military aid missions."

Kimny said the talks will determine details of the withdrawal of U.S. military aid within six months for the military program.

Joke Played On 2 State Lawmakers

MADISON (AP) — Two Wisconsin lawmakers sleeping soundly in a trailer parked on a Capitol driveway were awakened by a Madison policeman early Wednesday.

Assemblymen Eugene Kaufman, D-Manitowoc, and Everett Bolle, D - Francis Creek, have been living in Kaufman's old school bus which has been turned into a vehicle for living to cut costs during the fall legislative session.

The policeman's pounding that aroused the sleepy-eyed Kaufman and Bolle was followed by a question: "Your wives with you?"

Kaufman and Bolle mumbled in the negative.

"Well, we can't have this going on," declared the lawman.

"Have what?" the two pressed.

The officer made the lawmakers look. Some wag had strung a clothes line from the trailer to a Capitol Park tree. From it dangled a pair of woman's panties, a bra and some stockings.

Demonstration Flight For Strange Craft

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A strange-looking jet airplane developed under a $2.5-million Army contract took off vertically and then leveled off into normal flight in a demonstration here.

Lockheed-Georgia's new "Hummingbird" can hover like a helicopter or move sideways. It has no propellers. It was shown in its first complete take-off - to - landing operation Wednesday.

Powered by two turbojet engines, the 32-foot-long plane has climbed to 10,000 feet in 58 seconds.

County Board Reform Bill Appears Blocked

Lorge Wants Study Plan to Include Traditional Representation System

MADISON — A reluctant State legislature and city lines, "giving Senate appeared likely today to greater consideration to population to death a watered-down version of a plan for the present town, village and official study of the feasibility city ward representation, but of population representation on not disregarding other factors."

The original plan, pushed by committee report, representing citizens groups interested in a compromise between the county government reform, asking conflicting views of the Assembly explicitly for development and Senate, reached the Senate a population apportionment plan as it was rushing toward adjournment of its session.

Only with a strong push did it seem probable that the senate could approve the weakened plan and arrange for concurring action by the Assembly before the legislators closed their desks for a winter recess.

Principal block in the way of the study plan came from Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, who had insisted that the study should also embrace the traditional system of governmental unit representation on county boards.

Conference Reports
The conference report, largely written by Lorge, would direct the special commission of citizens and legislators to draft a system of county board organization on the basis of town, village and city lines.

Community Players at Oshkosh Rate Praise

Rolling Comedy 'Happy Time' Opens Theater's Silver Anniversary Season

BY JINGO
The existence of a community theater is a precarious one at best. The rough road to popular acceptance is strewn with the mangled bodies of little theater groups whose good intentions failed to measure up to the stringent demands of the milieu.

Because of all this the Oshkosh Community Players' silver jubilee year that opened last night is of considerable noteworthy importance. The 25th anniversary show for the Players is a rollicking comedy that has found favor for many years as a Broadway hit, a road stand-by, a Hollywood all-star film and a community theater workhorse.

And why not? "Happy Time" is a good show that touches universal appeal at every turn. It is the Samuel Taylor adaptation of the Robert Fontaine stories about adolescence in French Canada. The show plays tonight and about Friday.

It is an appropriate show for a milestone production. The central figure is played by seventh grader Mike Magnusson — indicating further growth for the Players in the future — and a major supporting role is being handled by a charter member of the Players, Lloyd Wasser Sr., — indicating the staying power of interest in the theater in Oshkosh.

The Fox Cities get into the celebration in the person of Mrs. Don Anderson, a favorite of the Attic Theatre troupe.

Wasser brings to the play a world of experience reaching back to the old Chautauqua circuit days. In the 1920s he appeared with the Winner Brothers Players of Mosinee. This acting family is well remembered for the later great success of Charlie Winner.

Wasser Well Cast
Wasser has directed and played in many of the Oshkosh productions throughout the years. As his part of Grandpa fills the function of dispensing information and experience-born knowledge, Wasser seems truly type-cast.

Another type-casting job appears in the roles of Aunt Felice and Uncle Louis. They will be played by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kroil, veteran Players' troupe members who became engaged some 10 years ago after appearing together in "Boy Meets Girl."

John Rasmussen will bring special experience to the show as director. He appeared in a production of the comedy in Connecticut.

Excellent Duo
Attic Theatre's representative in the cast, Lila Anderson, whose Marty Robbins and His Teardrop Band will be among the featured performers Saturday night when Grand Ol' Opry appears at the Brown County Arena. Other Grand Ol' Opry favorites sharing the spotlight at the 8 p.m. show include George Hamilton IV, who will sing his hit recording "Abilene," Marion Worth, Don Sykes, Bobby Winters and Vic Martin and his western swing band. Tickets are available at Newman's Store in Appleton.

Throw Away That Hearing Aid

Now an amazing new scientific invention lets you hear better again, yet you wear nothing in either ear. No wires, no cords, no tubes, no bulky battery packs. And, utilizing the mastoid process, hearing is carried directly to the inner ear, thus bypassing the defective outer or middle ear. Everything — Electronic circuit power unit, microphone, controls — is so skillfully engineered that you may wear it and not even your closest friend realizes it unless you tell him. You simply set it, forget it, get natural hearing wherever you are. For free, full information about the revolutionary, new hearing aid that requires nothing in either ear, write today to Otarian, 7063 Post Road, Ossining, New York, or write Box Y-80, Appleton Post-Crescent.

Menasha Historical Society Holds a Family Recipe Swap, Tasting Session

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's a good reason why the Menasha Historical Society wins state prizes year after year and its meeting on foods last week at the Elisha D. Smith Library proved it abundantly, deliciously and interestingly. When these people plan a program they do it thoroughly. . . it is not only authentic from a historical standpoint but there always is an extra attraction . . . a creative approach to the subject.

The group's annual meeting on foods was different from all the others held in previous years. It became at once a delightful peep into culinary history and a bountiful feast. Centered on a recipe swap . . . old ones handed down from generation to generation in the families of the society's members . . . the recipes not only appeared but so did the actual breads, cookies, baked beans, Johnny cakes, salads and other foods these recipes made. Then to dress up the "gleaning boards" members brought all sorts of old-fashioned kitchen utensils, dinnerware, linens, cut glass, bowls, molds, cookie cutters, food choppers and other paraphernalia of kitchens and dining rooms of yesterday. There were jugs, an ancient vegetable slicer, pitchers, Bennington ware, handsome cruets, a wooden dough bowl, a beautiful kerosene lamp and a copper kettle . . . all cherished family treasures. There was a collection of old cookbooks to add drama to the setting.

The committee in charge of the historical evening included Mrs. Matthew Auer, president of the society and chairman of the event, Mrs. Ann Evenstad, Mrs. John Wilterding, Mrs. John Backes, Miss Mary Corty and Miss Ethel MacKinnon.

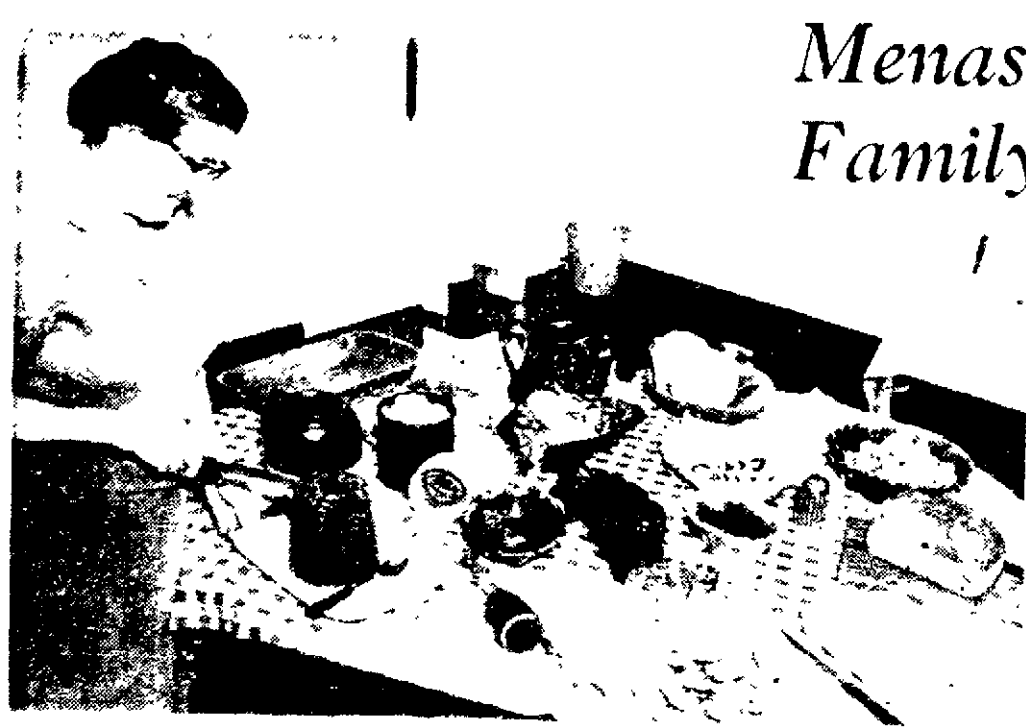

Each old article and every recipe had its own story behind it to make a wonderful evening of listening and to make history come alive in a setting of its own era. A triple example was Mrs. Victor Pflieger's Christmas cookie recipe, the old iron nut grater used to make them, as well as the cookies she made for the event. A modern note to the recipe is that it was chosen twice for publication in recent editions of a nationally-known cookbook. Historically, the recipe belonged to her German great-great-grandfather, a baker whose political differences with the government brought him, his recipe and the grater to the United States.

(These cookies are rich with nutmeats, used instead of flour in the recipe.)

She also brought the several pieces of Bennington ware (matching pitcher and bowls) on display.

With Thanksgiving just around a buffet table.

Flowers Always Available. A great advantage to select- ing anthurium is that they are extremely hardy. Even in a steam-heated apartment, they will last a good length of time, making them a very economi- cal choice of flowers. With the addition of a few new glads, an arrangement can be effective for almost two weeks.

At this season of the year, they need not be expensive.

Sheinwold Finesse Assures Contract

Most players know all about the kind of finesse that aims at capturing an opponent's high card but few know about the indirect finesse. The object of the indirect type is to let the opponent win his high card.

West leads the king of spades, continues with the ace and then shifts to a trump. South draws trumps and then goes to work on the diamonds and clubs.

Opening lead — ♠ K

If South is an active finesser he will lead the queen of diamonds from dummy and the jack of clubs from his hand. Both finessees will lose, and South will therefore go down.

The correct play is to take an indirect finesse in clubs. This virtually guarantees the contract since East surely has at least one of the two missing kings. (If West had both kings together with the top spades he would have spoken up instead of passing.)

Leads Low Club

The correct play is to lead a low club from dummy after drawing two rounds of trumps. If East takes the king, South will later get the jack of clubs and will return to dummy with a trump to discard two diamonds on the ace and queen of clubs.

If East fails to step up with the king of clubs, South wins with the jack. Now there is no losing club, so South can afford to give up a diamond.

What happens if West has the king of clubs? South then loses a club trick but can discard one diamond later on dummy's queen of clubs. The contract will then depend on the diamond finesse, and East will have the king of diamonds if West has the king of clubs.

Daily Question

As dealer you hold: S A K J 9, H 6 3, D K 8 7, C 8 7 5 3. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. This is not quite enough for an opening bid when you have only a four-card suit.

Party Special

For a party "special" it is suggested that the hostess plan a decor of roses and give an individual rose to each arriving feminine guest.

Two Milwaukee Polish Cooks, Mrs. John Joachimczyk, left, and Mrs. Leonard Sklenarz prepared their popular Paluszki or pastry "fingers" for the Holiday Folk Fair at the Milwaukee Arena Saturday and Sunday. The Polish food booth will be one of 25 nationality areas in the International Sidewalk Cafe.

In Milwaukee Foreign Foods Feature Of Holiday Folk Fair

Do you have a hankering for a Vienna torte, a French crepe suzette, Swedish meat balls or a Polish pastry? Do you wish you could taste some authentic Hungarian Paprika or a food specialty of Holland, the Scandinavian countries, Japan or Latin America?

Almost as exciting as an eating spree abroad is a visit to the annual Holiday Folk Fair being held Saturday and Sunday in the Milwaukee Arena. Besides being able to dine in 25 different foreign "restaurants," there will be market stalls for shopping, nationality exhibits, and the programs presented by members of Milwaukee County's various nationality groups.

The fair is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. both days.

Two of the foods which will be popular at the fair this year are Paluszki or Polish Fingers and a Croatian stuffed cabbage dish called Sarma. Both will be served at their respective food booths in the International Sidewalk Cafe.

The Ailing House Special Handling For Wood

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We are going to install knotty pine paneling ourselves in a room to be used as an office. Is any special handling of the lumber necessary to insure the panels fitting after being put on the wall?

A: If possible, it's a good idea to have the lumber delivered at least a week before you plan to do the work. Have it stacked horizontally in the room you plan to panel, with sticks between the boards to allow air circulation between boards. This gives the wood time to adjust to the climatic conditions of the room before being installed in place. Protect the panels from dirt, dust, fingerprints, etc.; these marks are often hard to remove.

Q: We recently purchased a five-year-old house. The kitchen counters have laminated plastic tops. I want to completely change the kitchen color scheme, if possible. Can the laminated plastic be painted?

A: No paint will adhere satisfactorily to the laminated plastic surfaces for any length of time because of the slick, non-porous surface. If you want to change the color, a new sheet of plastic, in any desired finish, could be applied over the present surfaces, carefully following installation instructions available at the dealer's.

Q: My daughter has reached the age where she wants to have a nice studio type bedroom. The furniture in her room is of assorted woods, with varying grains and colors. How could this be refinished to give a uniform appearance to the various grains and colors?

A: Use a good quality paint or enamel to conceal the grain. Be sure the surface is absolutely clean and free of all trace of grease, grime, etc., and sanded satin smooth, before applying the coating, and that any surface gloss dulled if present finish is not removed completely. I recommend applying a thin coat of pure, fresh, white shellac (thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol) before the paint or enamel.

Q: Or a plastic-coated, adhesive-backed contact paper can be applied, either to furniture tops only or to cover any specific surfaces. Available in a wide assortment of colors and patterns, at most housewares, variety, hardware and some paint stores. Personally, I favor the enamel.

Q: The joint between the two steps of our concrete stoop is now slightly open. How can this be patched?

A: The open joint can easily be filled with latex patching concrete, available masonry supplies dealers and many hardware stores. If the opening is no more than one-half inch cross and one-half inch deep, it can first be filled with a light-colored caulking compound, followed by the patching concrete.

Boots Rise To High Style For Winter

Are you resisting the boot trend because your ankles are too pretty to hide?

Footwear designer Golo has the answer. Rising from a handsome pair of alligator pumps is a tall and transparent boot, which displays nicely a lady's ankle and gracefully curved calf.

For rainy weather he has also styled the spats boot, in calf and shin heights. The boot spat gives the illusion of being an ordinary, heeled shoe worn with old-fashioned white spats.

Women's Hip Boots

The highest boots yet are Yves St. Laurent's which reach to the thighs like fishing boots. But these are skintight and the leather so lightweight and supple that it bends at the knee joint without pinching.

Wool Sneakers

Sneakers have taken such a foothold that everybody is busy trying to create a better one. When podiatrists complained that certain rubber shoes were not good for the feet, leather sneakers were made.

Now canvas has more competition from wool. The sheep's contribution to the sneaker business is made in a rich assortment of wool checks, plaids, and herringbones, coordinated to match wool skirts made by sportswear manufacturers.

Seven-Year-Old Has No Right to Play With Auto

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: A well-meaning friend of ours made a joke with my 7-year-old son a few weeks ago and promised to teach him to drive his car. Since that time, our son has twice moved the gearshift on our car so that it has rolled out of the garage. Without making him distrust our friend, how can we get across to our son that he's too young to Forget about having your son trust this foolish friend. Be frank about saying to your son that your friend was teasing him.

Tell your son he may not touch any of the car except the seat — including the window and door handles. To be on the safe side, set your hand brake whenever you park and lock your car and the garage door.

Dear Dr. Jones: Since entering high school this year, my 13-year-old son's grades have been much lower than they were all through grade school. Why? He's smart and he used to be an A student.

MRS. P. R.

He may just be suffering from the well-known disease caused by being a little fish in a great pond. Or he may be preoccupied with the natural changes of puberty and unable to keep his attention on his studies.

He'll probably pick up his grades after he has had a chance to get better accustomed to all the new changes that have happened to him recently. Make certain he has good study habits, then wait until the end of this year to look for improvement. Write again if he doesn't settle down by then.

Dear Dr. Jones: Ever since our nextdoor neighbor bought a new color TV set, my children have been complaining that they want another one too. The same thing happened last year when another neighbor bought a new car. At that time, because our old car was 2 years old, we did actually buy a new one. But we simply can't afford a new TV, particularly since a color TV is so expensive.

Why are my children so envious? They're constantly bickering with each other about which one has more clothes or toys or anything you can name.

MRS. D. C.

In order to convince your children that they don't need color TV to be happy, make certain you're giving them the things money can't buy: warmth and security.

Stop all bickering, too. Tell them flatly that you're the one who decides what each child needs and you won't permit them to argue with each other instead of with you. When they complain to you, hear them out. Then remind them that you love them and try to explain your point of view.

Dr. Jones replies personally to every letter her readers send her. If you have a problem you want her to help you with, write to her, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send your letter to: Dr. Eve Jones, care of this newspaper.

Philippine Luxury in Fashions, Hand Work

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — House- maids in Manila must be the world's best dressed, for the rich and fashionable women discard their extravagant ball gowns after a single wearing. At the local going rates they can afford to, says Filipino designer Jose Moreno. A magnificent embroidered creation that no prestige-conscious lady there would be seen twice in could cost $2,000 in the United States but a mere $200 in the Philippines. Furthermore starting from sketches and fabric, the lucky ladies can pick up their intricately decorated, hand-made dresses within three days, if necessary. What little dressmaker here can do that? In fact, any kind of garment can be had as suddenly and as cheaply as in that much publicized bargain mecca, Hong Kong, and for the same reasons. Labor is so cheap and plentiful that 10 workers can be assigned to a single article. Why Not Manila? Unfortunately, not many American women know about this yet, sighs Moreno, president of the 13-member, all-male Philippine Couture Association. Frankly covetous of Hong Kong's fashion business success a mere 90 air minutes away, Moreno and three other designers hurried to this country recently to hustle up some business for his hometown. With them came five amateur models, beautiful Manila socialites who would not be caught dancing in the same ballgown twice. In their luggage was not only opulence at poor man's prices, but new kinds of fabrics and some native flavored styles that may very well leave their marks here. Just, for example, is a delicate fabric like organdy which must be hand-washed in tea to maintain the ecru color so handsome with a tan. Pena is another wispy material made from pineapple. Both are heavily embroidered, hemstitched, fagoted and applied by the nimble Filipino women. No Admittance But the Barong created the greatest stir in the United States in more ways than one. During the island's rule by Spanish despots, the conquerors gave the Filipinos their cast-off shirts with the stipulation that they be worn outside the trousers to indicate the servile positions. The flying shirttails prompted the Spaniards to refer contemptuously to the natives as Monkey Tails, a name that pains designer Moreno to this day. When the Philippines at last won its independence, the country adopted the lavishly embroidered shirt as its native symbol, as a reminder of the tyranny that once was. Designer Moreno was dapper in a blue striped Western shirt, bright blue suit and iridescent tie to match, but others in his entourage wore their barongs. Unfortunately on several occasions American headwaiters turned the Filipinos away because they were not in jackets and ties. The feminine version of the barong brought here by Moreno, ornately decorated banana cloth and elongated, is meant to be worn over pretty party pants. Why Be Practical? Most formalwear in the Philippines is decorated to match the lady's jewels, explains the couturier, holding up a white satin jacket lavishly studded with ruby stones. "Marvelous," was the ecstatic reply of the witnesses, especially after they heard the tiny price. And what do Philippine designers think of American designs? There is a long pause. "Well," says Moreno, "they are very practical." Practical is a word seldom heard in the Philippines where the women of luxury never have to worry about whether garments can be washed or dry cleaned.

Let Others in On Tricks of Fund Raising

Have you been called on again and again to plan and carry through a club, dinner or church supper? Why not introduce someone new to the job of putting on a money raising event for your service group or church? To encourage others to take over on money-raising events is a big order. But you can make the jobs of a newcomer easier if you make sure planning procedures and records are so good that others can look back and read what you've done. Select Committees When you serve a meal either at cost or at a profit, plan well in advance. Hold a general committee meeting with a representative of every group needed to carry out the event. You may need committees for food preparation, dining facilities, clean-up, publicity and decorations. With these people on your general planning committee, you'll have better ideas that will get carried out. Establish policy and stick to it. Decide who can do the buying, where, and how. Write down decisions made and keep careful records. Then you can hand over the books to another chairman. And she won't have to constantly confer with you about what was done. Keep Record Put every bit of planning on paper, not just the menu, which should be recorded, of course. Write down where you shopped in the past, extra services the stores gave and who worked on committees. List your recipe sources. Ideally, a copy of every recipe that was used and proved satisfactory should be included in the file of records on the event. Does your group have a file of good quantity recipes? Your county home economics agent can suggest books and other sources of recipes, such as the United States Department of Agriculture, the University of Wisconsin, publishing companies and commercial sources. Your local public library may also have a collection of quantity recipe books, or it may be willing to add those books to the collection.

Children Lose Respect for Parents Who Air Battles

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am tension for kids who have to listen to a 17-year-old girl whose problem is probably shared by millions of teen-agers. I refer to parents who have terrible arguments in front of their children.

I once read that arguing is good for people because it allows them to let off steam and release tension. Well, it may release tension for those who are doing the arguing, but it creates

I have listened to my parents fight ever since I was old enough to understand words. Their arguments follow a pattern. One will start picking on the other over some trifle. Finally it builds up to a horrible, name-calling battle. The fight ends when my mother slams the bedroom door and locks it—or my father walks out of the house.

Don't parents realize it is impossible for children to have any respect for them if they don't have any respect for each other?

Please print this letter for the benefit of all the parents in this country who think their arguments are private affairs. Let them know their fights affect everybody within hearing distance.—Shook

Dear Shook: For years I've been crusading against parental fights in the presence of children.

Every couple, no matter how well mated, is bound to hit on differences of opinion. Civilized, mature adults resolve their differences in private. Calling names and hurling insults is destructive and it solves nothing.

I am delighted you wrote so the parents can see how their bawling looks from the peanut gallery. Many thanks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago a chemistry student gave my son a test tube filled with crystals that would "take care of" cats. We have always had a surplus of cats in our neighborhood and their yowling at night is a nuisance, but I could never bring myself to use the poison. So I locked the test tube in a chest which is in the basement.

The other evening I saw a TV show that scared me half to death. The show dealt with cyanide poisoning. Now I want more than ever to get rid of that test tube but I don't know how.

If I throw it into the toilet the poison would go through the sewage purifying plant and eventually into the natural waterways. I can't burn it because it may produce deadly fumes. If I hand it over to the police I may get into trouble.

I can't sleep nights because of this problem. If you can help me I will be forever grateful.—The San Francisco Shakes

Dear Shakes: I have checked with my authorities on poisonous chemical substances and they tell me you should give this test tube to any pharmacist. He will dispose of it as he does other poisonous substances. And in the future don't accept anything for cats which you wouldn't pour over your own breakfast cereal.

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers and Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1963)

It Took 18 Years of Wooing before Johnny O'Connor, Ketchikan, Alaska, could pose for this wedding picture Sunday in the doorway of Holy Name Catholic Church in Ketchikan. O'Connor met his bride, the former Dorothy Cameron of Grantown-on-Spey, Scotland, 18 years ago when he served in the U. S. Army in Scotland. The long courtship was climaxed recently when Mr. O'Connor went to Scotland and returned with his bride-to-be. (AP Wirephoto)

nine cups may be needed to make dough stiff. Allow dough to rise in warm place, away from drafts, overnight. Knead dough well, then shape into loaves. Let loaves rise again, for about one hour

Bake in 350-degree oven until done.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

(Mrs. Victor Pfeiffer)

3 cups blanched almonds
3 1/2 cups hazelnuts
4 eggs
2 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
Sifted confectioners sugar

Grate separately (do not combine) the blanched almonds to make about seven and one-half cups of grated nuts and hazelnuts to make about six cups grated. Set aside in separate dishes.

Beat eggs until thick and softly piled. Add gradually the sugar, beating thoroughly after each addition. Beat for 15 minutes after all sugar is added until mixture is very light. Beat in grated lemon peel.

Pour half of this batter into a second bowl; set aside. Add almonds to batter in first bowl, mixing thoroughly to form a stiff dough. Sprinkle pastry cloth lightly with sifted confectioners sugar. Using the palm of the hand, shape dough, one teaspoonful at a time, into rounds about a quarter-inch thick. Bring opposite sides together and overlap at center. Place on cookie sheet.

Add hazelnuts to batter in second bowl, mixing thoroughly to form a stiff dough. Using a rolling pin, roll dough out to quarter-inch thickness on sugared pastry cloth. Cut dough with diamond shape cutters, place on cookie sheet.

Bake all the cookies in preheated, 350-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to cooling rack; do not refreeze.

After baking. Recipe makes about four dozen cookies.

MRS. BRANDEMUEHL'S MOLASSES COOKIES

(Mrs. John Maring)

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup syrup
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 3 tablespoons hot water
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 5 cups flour

Cream together shortening and sugar; add syrup, molasses and egg in that order, blending each well. Mix together soda, hot water and vinegar, stirring until soda is dissolved. Sift together spices, salt and flour. Add alternately with water-vinegar mixture to creamed mixture. Blend well. Roll dough out on lightly floured board until very thin and as quickly as possible. Cut with cookie cutters. Bake in preheated, 375-degree oven until crisp.

CORN STICKS OR JOHNNIE CAKE

(Mrs. John Witterding)

- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups buttermilk
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 1/2 cups cornmeal
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup soft shortening

Beat egg, beat in milk. Sift together dry ingredients; mix into egg-milk mixture, blending well. Add shortening (Mrs. Witterding suggests bacon fat as being an excellent shortening). Butter corn stick or other pans; heat in oven while mixing the corn stick batter. Pour batter into hot pans, filling about three-quarters full. Bake in preheated, 450-degree oven until done.

IRISH POTATO CAKE

(Joseph R. Coyle)

- 1 full cup mashed potatoes
- 1 full cup flour
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 small cup buttermilk
- 1/2 teaspoon caraway seed

Mix all ingredients together well. Bake in round baking pan or skillet in 350-degree, preheated oven for 15 minutes; remove from oven, turn cake over carefully and bake for a second 15 minutes until browned.

POTATO DUMPLINGS

(Mrs. Carl Vogelsang)

- 6 large potatoes, boiled and riced (prepare day before)
- 1 heaping cup dry bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg
- 1 cup flour
- 3 eggs

Mix all ingredients well; roll into balls a little bigger than golf balls. Butter hands for easy rolling. These can be set aside in cool place until ready to cook. Test-cook small ball in salted boiling water; if dough does not hold together, add a little more flour. Drop dumplings in boiling salted water; when dumplings come to top of liquid, simmer for 10 minutes. Take out of kettle and serve with buttered bread crumbs.

Thaw Frozen Foods

Thawing uncooked frozen food in a new range with a low-temperature oven takes approximately one-fourth the time required for thawing at room temperature. Preheat the oven to 155 degrees. Leave the foods tightly wrapped in their moisture-vapor-proof freezer wrap. Cook immediately. Once thawed, do not refreeze.

Reimers Held for Trial in Slaying of Ex-Wife's Friend

Waupaca Man Faces Charges of Attempted First Degree Murder

BY DICK McDANIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—George P. Reimers Sr., 45, route 1, Waupaca, was ordered held for county court on charges of first degree murder and attempted first degree murder by Judge Wendell McHenry Wednesday afternoon.

Reimers, who admitted the slaying of a friend of his ex-wife in a statement to Sheriff Loran Frazier and Undersheriff William Mork, was held in county jail without bond.

Reimers is accused of shooting Willys N. Holmes, 40, route 1, Nov. 9 in the home of his ex-wife, Mrs. Ruth Rollefson, route 1. He also is accused of attempting to murder Mrs. Rollefson by hitting her on the head with the barrel of the rifle used in shooting Holmes. Holmes died about 2 a.m. Nov. 10 in Waupaca Riverside Community hospital.

Dark Glasses
Mrs. Rollefson, wearing over-size dark glasses, a white head scarf and black dress and chewing gum, was on the witness stand the longest.

Under questioning by Dist. Atty. Gerald G. Anderson, she said she and Holmes walked into her home about 10:30 p.m. Nov. 9, and found Reimers waiting for them with a .22 caliber rifle. "I'm going to kill you both," Mrs. Rollefson quoted Reimers as saying. "He then shot Willys and started hitting me over the head with the gun," she added. She said she "came to" on the kitchen floor in "a pool of blood" from her head and heard Willys calling for help but "George would not let me out to get help." She said she had divorced Reimers in February, 1961.

Five Weeks
She said she spent the Friday night before the shooting in the home of the victim and that she had been living in her home with Reimers for five weeks until the Monday before the shooting. She said Reimers "took my bed and I slept on the davenport."

Mrs. Rollefson said she stayed Nov. 8 in the Holmes' home "because I was afraid of George."

She also said Reimers had threatened to kill her and had beaten her one night in a hotel room in Iron Mountain.

At another time, she said her daughter had to take a butcher knife to "get him away from me at my home. Everything was fine as long as he got all the money for himself," she said of Reimers.

1962 Divorce
During defense Atty. Richard Johnson's questioning, she also admitted she received her divorce from Reimers in February, 1962, instead of 1961 as she had previously testified.

At the time of the shooting, she said "Willys tried to back out the kitchen door but George rushed up and shot him."

She said she heard Holmes ask for help because he was shot. She said while she was laying on the kitchen floor "every time I tried to get up he hit me on the head."

"I told him I was sick and he let me go to the bathroom and Mrs. Rollefson, testifed I ran out the front door. . . he Holmes never reached 'oporachased me out the door," she added.

During Johnson's questioning she said Reimers threatened to kill her if "I did not come back to him."

After claiming she did not remember if Reimers had returned to her home in the spring of 1963, she said "sure, he forced himself in" some time around Memorial day.

She said she first started seeing Holmes in June or July, 1963. "George never wanted me, all he ever wanted was money," she added. She said she and Reimers filed a joint income tax return in 1963.

Sheriff Frazier and Undersheriff Mork were questioned by Johnson about Reimers' statement. Both testified Reimers said "he wanted to see an attorney before talking about hitting Mrs. Rollefson with the gun."

Receive Call
Frazier said the night of the shooting his department received a call from Mrs. Forest Diley to come to the home. He said Reimers surrendered himself at the sheriff's office later that night.

Frazier said he found another live shell in the rifle, but thought "the bolt was damaged and it would not fire." He said he found the spent shell on the floor of the home. He said the rifle, which had a broken stock, was sent to the crime laboratory in Madison.

Johnson asked for the statement made by Holmes, but Frazier said the district attorney had it.

Both Frazier and Mork, under questioning by Johnson concerning the text of the statement, said Reimers told Mrs. Rollefson "It is nice that you can spread your love around" before he shot Holmes.

The two men said Reimers told them he went into the home between 6 and 6:30 p.m. got the gun, loaded it and waited for Mrs. Rollefson and Holmes to return.

County Policeman John Bonnell said he was the first to arrive at the home where he found Holmes on the floor of the living room.

"I asked him who did it and he said 'George shot me,'" Bonnell testified. "He chased her out and probably killed her by now," Bonnell quoted Holmes as saying.

Bonnell said he then went out the front door of the home and started looking for Reimers when Frazier and Waupaca policeman, Sgt. Jack Penney, arrived.

Check Charges
Johnson also questioned Bonnell about Reimers' clothing left in Bonnell's home while Reimers was in jail on 17 worthless check counts. Bonnell said Reimers' clothes were brought to his home by Holmes.

Johnson asked Bonnell about talking to Reimers about Holmes and Bonnell said he had discussed the matter with Reimers several times.

Dr. M. O. Boudry, Waupaca physician who attended Holmes, let me go to the bathroom and Mrs. Rollefson, testifed I ran out the front door. . . he Holmes never reached 'opora-

Attorney 'Picked Up' by Police Indigents on Trial Assured of Legal Counsel

When Atty. James T. Bayorgeon answered a knock on the door of his home at 313 E. Randall St. shortly after 8 p.m. Wednesday, he stood face-to-face with a policeman.

While nothing was wrong, it did represent a bit of a shock. The officer brought good tidings—Bayorgeon had just been elected to the common council and he was "wanted" at city hall to take the oath.

On the first formal ballot, the council had elected the 27-year-old Bayorgeon 17th Ward alderman to fill a vacancy.

Bayorgeon, son of the mayor of Kaukauna, and an assistant Outagamie County district attorney, will serve on the council for $100 a month until spring when he will be up for election.

He was selected from among a group of four ward residents who sought the interim appointment. Others included: Thomas Mann, 500 E. Alice St.; Mrs. Arch Hoffman, 627 E. Brewster St.; and Lawrence M. Thomas, 417 E. Lindbergh St.

Bayorgeon and his wife, Mary, have a 3-year-old daughter, Julia.

He is a graduate of the Marquette University Law School. Police Chief Earl O. Wolff escorted the youthful-looking alderman into the council chambers and at 8:27 p.m. City Clerk Elden Broehm administered the oath, making it official. The freshman alderman took his seat and the council got down to other business.

But on the first roll call there was a slight oversight—Bayorgeon was missed.

Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th), a veteran of council warfare, called it to the attention of the clerk, and Bayorgeon's vote was recorded.

The incident prompted a few chuckles and a light comment from Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) that, "If you bring a guy in here by police escort, you ought to use him."

The rights of indigent defendants in criminal cases have been substantially increased under recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court and Wisconsin Supreme Court, according to Associate Justice Horace W. Wilkie of the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Justice Wilkie addressed a meeting of the Frank Harwood Y Men's Club Wednesday evening at the Appleton YMCA. This was the final appearance by Justice Wilkie at a series of five speeches to Appleton service clubs this week.

Wilkie noted both courts were now insisting that pauper defendants accused of any serious crime, not just capital cases, be provided with counsel both for trial and on appeal. "These developments are substantial steps toward our goal of equal justice under law," he said.

Appoints Attorneys
Justice Wilkie disclosed the Supreme Court now requires counsel to be appointed in every case where an indigent defendant has been convicted of a felony and wishes to appeal from the trial court to the State Supreme Court.

"Since this ruling, our court has appointed attorneys to represent indigents on appeal," Wilkie said. "Under our prior practice, we would appoint counsel only if the appeal, in our judgment, seemed to have real merit."

Wilkie declared the responsibility of lawyers has been greatly increased by these decisions and said, "It now becomes increasingly important to work out a system of compensation for such counsel that will result in able representation of each indigent without placing an unreasonable financial burden on each community."

Wilkie noted lawyers, judges, legislators and local officials were all working on the problem and was hopeful necessary legislation would be enacted by the current legislature.

A rural Appleton schoolgirl is in St. Elizabeth Hospital today where she is being treated for injuries she received when she was struck by a school bus near her home Wednesday afternoon. Injured was Carla A. Nackers, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nackers, route 4, Appleton. Mrs. Nackers said her daughter came home from school about 3:40 p.m. and said she had been hit by the bus. # Bail System Overhaul Is Said Long Overdue

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The first national conference to overhaul our archaic bail system will be held in Washington this coming May — a sign that out of it will come at last reform at both the local and federal level of our cruelly unrealistic, out-rageously discriminatory, staggeringly expensive bail procedures.

Simply because they're too poor, persons can't raise bail at any time. In New York City alone last year 58,458 persons couldn't raise bail. In Philadelphia 50 per cent of persons arrested in the previous 24 hours. They then recommend to the judges whether or not the defendants are good risks for release without bond.

Countless more millions are lost in taxes at all levels of government because people in prison can't earn money on which to pay taxes. More millions are needlessly spent by bail on the basis of Vera recommendations since October 1961, only nine have jumped parole — a "no show" record of less than 1 per cent and, as Justice Botein emphasizes, "much smaller than the ratio of nonappearance among defendants who furnish bail."

Although there has been talk about reform of our bail system for years, it wasn't until 1961 when a chemical engineer named Louis Schweitzer came turned into action. Convinced that inability to post bail was tantamount to making poverty a crime, Schweitzer established the Vera Foundation and launched a thorough experiment shown by the Manhattan Bail Project, 45 per cent of persons accused of a crime can't raise bail when it is set at $2,000. In Baltimore and St. Louis 75 per cent of accused persons can't raise bail.

Millions Wasted

The bail system of the U.S. More hundreds of millions are always has been a sickening illustration of one type of justice for the rich, another for the poor. Now it also is being revealed as a monstrously costly trial — up 83 per cent just since crime. In New York City, reports the Vera Foundation and launched a thorough experiment shown by the Manhattan Bail Project, 45 per cent of persons accused of a crime can't raise bail when it is set at $2,000. In Baltimore and St. Louis 75 per cent of accused persons can't raise bail.

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of 1963. There are 40 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1806, Napoleon declared the British Isles to be in a state of blockade and forbade all trade or correspondence with England. The decree was issued although Napoleon had barely a warship afloat to enforce the order.

On this date: In 1789, North Carolina became the 12th state to ratify the Constitution.

In 1877, Thomas Alva Edison announced he had invented a talking machine.

In 1944, U.S. 7th Army troops captured Saareburg, the French gateway to the German Saar region.

Ten years ago—Italy agreed in principle to attend a five-power conference aimed at finding a solution to the Trieste problem.

Five years ago—Mel Ott, former New York Giant manager and a baseball Hall of Fame member, died in a New Orleans hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident.

One year ago—The Soviet Union canceled the combat-readiness alert of armed forces imposed at the start of the Cuban crisis.

New Head Basketball Coach at Kimberly High School, Gene Mason, shows two of his lettermen some of the strategy the Papermakers will use in the season opener against Appleton High at the new Kimberly

Top-Rated Teams Meet In New Gym

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

It would be well-nigh impossible to devise a more ideal way to christen the new Kimberly High School gym than to stage a Papermaker-Appleton basketball game.

The well-matched Fox Cities foes have squared off in four successive out-of-this-world season openers—and no one is taking any bets that they can't produce No. 5 Friday night.

The 10th year of the Terror-Papermaker rivalry will be launched in a glamorous new setting—the spacious multi-colored Kimberly basketball emporium at 8 15 p.m. Friday. Another touch of the new is found in the debut of Gene Mason as Kimberly coach.

Dick Emanuel, beginning his second decade at AHS, will lead the Terrors.

5 Lettermen Back

Both teams are well-stocked with veteran players for the prestige battle. The Papermakers start the season with five lettermen, including four regulars—back from the 1962-3 Mid-Eastern Conference championship team. The Terrors have eight lettermen—and they include two returning full-time regulars and two part-timers.

To add immensity to an already big occasion, the Papermakers could start a pair of 6-foot, 7-inch performers. If Gordon Zillges and Chuck Meyer are done simultaneously, it could well mark the first time that two prep cagers of such towering proportions have ever played at the same time for an area school.

Last year's 67-63 double-overtime victory for Kimberly was the latest in a line of incredibly close duels. In the 1961-2 opener, the Papermakers won, 59-58. In the 1960-1 inaugural, Appleton won, 59-57. And, in the memorable 1959-60 opener, Kimberly triumphed, 74-72, in two overtimes and a round of free throws.

The 1962 battle was tied at 54-all after regulation time and 60-61 after the first overtime. The Papermakers went on to outscore the Terrors, 7 to 3, in the second extra session.

Papermakers who have returned this season accounted for most of the team's points in last year's game. Lee Levknecht fired home 25 points. John De-

Largest Deer Herd Since 1958 Awaits 300,000 Hunters

Weatherman Will Play Major Role in Outcome of Season

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

If you put stock in "possibilities" there are several interesting ones going for you, particularly if you're one of the 300,000 deer hunters who will be taking to the woods Saturday morning when the 1963 Wisconsin season opens.

Sources of these "possibilities" are the state Conservation Department and that fellow who always plays a major role in the final outcome, the weatherman.

The Conservation Department has painted a rosy picture if you like statistics. Survey estimates say that the overall deer population is between 400,000 and 500,000 making it the largest deer herd available since the 1958 season.

Highest Numbers

Heaviest concentrations are in the northwest and west central portions of the state. Last year, with a smaller herd, hunters bagged about 41,000 bucks and 5,000 antlerless deer. This year's

Hawks Face Messmer, Dominican

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

We've got four tough games coming up right in a row. These were the words of Xavier coach Clark.

Few people who read these words will believe them. Most will chuckle a bit and quietly move on to the next column.

If you're a reader, you can do that. But if you're an Xavier basketball player, you have to listen and once you do, you're likely to be convinced of the task ahead, because Clark can be a convincing personality.

The first of those four tough games will be Friday night in the second game of a double-header at the Xavier High School Gym. The Hawks will meet Milwaukee Messmer at approximately 8:30 p.m. just after the Oshkosh Lourdes-Milwaukee Dominican clash which is slated to begin at 7 p.m.

Play at Oshkosh

The second contest Clark speaks of will take place Saturday night at Oshkosh. Xavier tangles with Dominican in the 7 p.m. game with Lourdes battling Mesmer in the midnighter.

The third and fourth tilts will begin at 7 p.m.

Cassius Could Be Deferred For Title Bout

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Even if Cassius Clay passes his Selective Service physical examination, there's a good chance he'll get to fight Sonny Liston for the heavyweight crown.

That opinion was expressed Wednesday by Everett Stephenson, state Selective Service director.

Clay received permission to take his examination in New York within the next 10 days. He is waiting for his papers to be transferred.

Under present quotas, Clay probably wouldn't be called before February, said Stephenson. "If he is due to be inducted a few days before his scheduled championship fight, he would get a brief deferment."

After the examination Clay would have about 10 days to decide whether to go into the Army for two years or join a reserve or National Guard unit.

Preble High School Denied Entrance to Mid-Eastern Loop

SHAWANO—Four area play-guard spots due to a voting deadlock.

Mike O'Brien and Hollis Bliss, both of Neenah, and Bill Melzer, of Clintonville, rounded out the offensive unit's backfield.

Ken Elting, of Kaukauna, was the choice at a defensive tackle and his teammate, junior Gary Schubring, was named as a guard.

Another junior, Menasha's Dick Sorensen, was named as one of the defensive halfbacks.

The conference denied Preble admission to the circuit by a 7-1 vote and championship trophies were awarded to Neenah, for football, cross country, and Menasha was given the loop's tennis trophy.

Frick Doesn't Like Idea of Playing Series at Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick does not think much of the idea to start the World Series on a weekend and play some Series games at night, but he has put it on the agenda for the major league meeting next month in Los Angeles.

"Any club can submit an idea, and it will be considered," Frick said. "I am not impressed by this one."

The idea came from Charles O. Finley, the owner of the Kansas City Athletics, who has been pushing it off and on all year. Finley also wants to open the season on a weekend. He says his proposals will help working people see more games either in person or on television and will use the calendar to base Kaukauna, and Gary Glocke, of

Gophers Won't Lack Incentive Against UW

Jimmy Jones to Play, John Hohman May Miss Game

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin needn't worry that last place Minnesota will lack incentive when the teams meet in their season football finale Saturday at Minneapolis.

Fresh in the minds of the Gophers is Wisconsin's 14-9 victory over Minnesota last season for the Big Ten Conference championship.

"I've got some things I want to do in this game," said 6-foot-5 tackle Carl Eller who holds a bitter view of the Badgers' last minute victory here in 1962.

Tabbed as an All-America prospect, Eller also has strong personal reasons for wanting to finish his career in a blaze of glory. Eller's cause already has suffered from Minnesota's dismal season in which they have salvaged only one victory in six conference starts.

"The revenge motive is really burning the players," warned sports publicist Otis Dypwick. "They will remember the bitter disappointment and frustration in Madison last year."

Wisconsin's hopes to keep

Earl Mentzel Powers 765 In Fox Valley Classic Loop

NEENAH — Earl Mentzel of the Menasha Sheet Metal team thundered a 765 national honor count, the highest of the young season, in the Fox Valley Classic League at Lake Road Lanes Wednesday night.

Mentzel, who has been bowling for 25 years, opened with a 255 game, hit a night's high of 265 in the second line and closed with a 245 count.

His previous best was a 699, also rolled at Lakewood last year.

It was the second national honor count of the season in the Twin Cities. Jim Kluba, who set a league record of 776 in the Classic League during the 1959-60 season, jarred a 726 on Oct. 16.

Lions Sign Cassidy to Help Defense

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League announced Wednesday they have signed Howard (Hop-along) Cassidy to plug up their injury-riddled defense.

Cassidy, an All-America halfback at Ohio State, played seven seasons on offense in the NFL before he was released this year by the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Lions said Cassidy signed as a free agent and would be used in their defensive backfield. The club's secondary has been hamstrung by injuries to Yale Lary, Gary Lowe, Night Train Lane and Dick Compton. The 29-year-old old Cassidy broke in with the Lions in 1956. He was traded last year and saw action with the Cleveland Browns and the Eagles.

How They Did It Number of Factors in 49er Win Over Bears

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers now play the only team that beat the Bears—the 49ers, that is.

And the way the Bears stopped our champions with 10 points in two contests, the 49ers' 20-17 victory over Chicago becomes a real rarity.

How in bloody blazes did the 49ers do it?

Art Johnson, the 49ers' new publicity chief who replaces the veteran white-head, Dan McGuire, answered the question rather dramatically for this captive audience of one.

"A new coach (Jack Christiansen) in his first game at home.

"A new quarterback (Lamar McHan) making his first start.

"We had lost 12 in a row, including the last two of 1962.

"And we really lost our last two (before the upset). In our first game against Detroit we had a minus 10 yards passing. Against Baltimore we made one first down rushing. The offense was so inept we wound up kicking a field goal from the 22 after recovering a Baltimore fumble on the 8.

"Of the kickoff of the Bear game we had gone 10 quarters, 13 minutes and 8 seconds without a touchdown. Our last touchdown had been in the second quarter of the Viking game and that came on a 95-yard kickoff return by Abe Woodson.

"Now we're in the Bear game. Woodson took the opening kickoff back 41 yards and nine plays later we're leading 7-0. We ran it right down their throats.

"We kickoff to them and they

Prep Football Deaths Reduced Says Official

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An official of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations says that high school football is "as safe as a boy at a Sunday school picnic."

David C. Arnold, assistant secretary of the federation, world, having 19,300 member schools and 7,300,000 students, said Safety Council as he addressed the Eastern Wisconsin football players.

Officials' Association convention Wednesday night.

Arnold said the safety council claims that deaths among high school gridders have been cut to one for every one million hours boys spend on the playing field.

He emphasized that the national federation's chief aims since its inception have been safety.

Arnold said the federation is the largest athletic group in the world, having 19,300 member schools and 7,300,000 students, said Safety Council as he addressed the Eastern Wisconsin football players.

Terrors Will Face Kimberly Friday Night

Wildt and Dennis Kroner added 11 apiece and Mark Vandehey scored eight.

Scores 17 Points

Gary Hietpas, who is back with the AHS team this season but probably won't play Friday, led the Terrors with 17 points in that game. Other Terror returnees who scored against Kimberly were "Chip" Taggart and Paul Schumaker, 10 apiece; Brian Bock, 9; and Tom Gallaway, 2.

Kimberly has won four straight games (including two tournament starts) to take the lead in the series. Papermaker teams coached by Gil Frank and Dave Genzmer posted a 9-7 edge over Emanuel-directed Terror entries.

Even after 2½ weeks of drills, neither coach is completely ready to announce a starting lineup. However, three Terrors (Bock, Chuck McKee and Neil Weber) and three Papermakers (Levknecht, Zillges and Jerry Wyngaard) are certain to face the opening tip-off.

Weber, the tallest Terror, at 6-4, will be at center. Teaming with Bock (last season's leading scorer) at forward will be Gallaway, Taggart or Bob Ness. Opposite McKee in the backcourt will be Schumaker, Jim Bertschy or John Mumme.

Hietpas, who has been suffering from a calcified charley horse as a result of a football injury, may suit up but will see little or no action, according to Emanuel Hietpas, the team's second leading scorer last season, is being counted on as a regular guard.

Misses Practice

Pat Gendron, one of the most promising AHS juniors, missed four days of practice due to illness, and his status for Friday is uncertain.

Mason will start Zillges and Wyngaard in the forecourt, but he is not sure whether he'll go with Levknecht (last season's top scorer) at forward or guard. If the 6-3 Levknecht starts at forward, Dennis Kroner, hold-over regular, and sophomore John Reider will start at the guards. If Levknecht leads off in the backcourt, he will team with either Kroner or Reider—and Meyer will open at a forward.

DeWildt will be one of the first reserves to see action, Mason indicates.

Kimberly will make its second start of a full weekend at Oshkosh Saturday night.

Inter-Loop Trade Period Now Open

Waivers Not Required in Either League for Three-Week Period

NEW YORK (AP) — The off-season of getting waivers, which was off today for inter-league trading in baseball. General managers who have been feeling each other out on the telephone now are free to get into the serious business and swap for real. The three-week inter-league period during which big league clubs can trade without the necessity of getting waivers, opened at midnight Wednesday.

clared they are ready to deal. Veteran outfielder Frank Thomas, a right-handed pull hitter, is their chief stock in trade since they swapped right-hander pitcher Roger Craig in the Cards for outfielder George Altman.

Most of the wheeling and dealing is expected to occur during the minor and major league meetings at San Diego and Los Angeles early next month.

In the National League the names of Cincinnati's Vada Pinson, Joey Jay and Gordy Coleman; San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda and Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews have been mentioned in connection with trades.

The trade winds in the AL may be blowing around Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jackie Brandt and Jim Gentile of the Baltimore Orioles, Lu Clinton and pitcher Earl Wilson of the Boston Red Sox and pitching ace Jim Bunning of the Detroit Tigers.

Quota Hunting
Another feature of the 1963 Wisconsin season will be the state's first try at quota deer hunting. Some 5,600 variable quota permits have been issued which give groups of four or more hunters the right to take one surplus deer, either a buck or doe, in specified areas.

For the best hunting, the state recommends counties such as Douglas, Bayfield, Washburn, Ashland, Sawyer, Price, Rusk, and Taylor where deer populations are rated "extraordinarily high."

Tonight and all day tomorrow hunters will be packing and leaving for places in the north. Other thousands will be in bed early Friday night and out in the wee hours Saturday as they head for places within a short driving distance from their homes.

All the excitement that has been building up for several weeks will be overflowing. The old stories will be forgotten for new ones are in the offing — the 1963 deer season is at hand.

Bears Top Defensive Unit in 4 Categories

Chicagoans Also Have Intercepted 28 Enemy Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—Defense is the story of the Chicago Bears' success and the latest statistics from the National Football League office prove the point. Before the season started, George Halas said, "We've got to improve our defensive line. Last year we were 13th against rushing. We've got to do better."

The Bears certainly have done better. They are No. 1 in rushing defense, No. 1 in pass field defense, No. 1 in total defense and No. 1 in scoring defense and after that 26-7 victory over Green Bay last Sunday.

The Bears have yielded only 189 points in 10 games. They have given up only 11 touchdowns, four on the ground and seven in the air. All three figures represent NFL lows for the year.

In contrast to the Bears' fine defensive figures, their rushing offense is seventh, their passing ninth and their total offense 11th among the 14 clubs.

Halas's defensive line has consisted of Doug Atkins, Earl Leggett, Stan Jones and Bob Kilgallen, who took the place of Ed O'Bradovich, just recently returned from the injured reserve list. ## Racial Issue May Cancel Out TV Bowl Game

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. may make a decision today on whether to cancel television coverage of a second Southern football bowl game because Negro players are not allowed to play.

NBC expects an answer today from officials of the Senior Bowl to a request for "clarification" of their rules on Negroes.

If the answer is that Negroes are barred, the network almost certainly will cancel the telecast of the game. NBC dropped the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., for the same reason.

The Blue-Gray is scheduled for Dec. 28, the Senior Bowl for Jan. 4.

NBC has three sponsors lined up for the Mobile game, which it has carried since 1957. The Blue-Gray was canceled for the network after it had been carried since 1954.

Faces Chicago Bears

Sunday Will be Day of Reckoning For Ed Brown, Steeler Quarterback

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sunday is a day of reckoning for Ed Brown, the quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

For the first time since being traded by the Chicago Bears, he'll face his old teammates in a regular season game—and a crucial one for both teams.

The rugged Bears, after whipping Green Bay 26-7 last week, hold a one-game lead over the Packers in the National Football League's Western Division with a 9-1 record.

The Steelers are in fourth place in the Eastern Division with a 6-3-1 record and need a victory to maintain their long shot chance at the section crown.

If the Steelers lose it won't be because of poor playing on Brown's part. His consistently fine quarterbacking has kept the Steelers in the race all season, despite some shoddy performance.

Brown was with the Bears for eight years and in 1956 led them to a Western Division title—the only one for Chicago in the last 17 years. But he fell out of Coach George Halas' favor and by 1961 was benched in favor of Billy Wade, the present Bears' quarterback.

"I don't think I was given a real good shot after '56," Brown said. "I was never the first string quarterback again and had to share the job with Zeke Bratkowski and Wade. But after the '61 season I was fed up and asked to be traded."

Grabbed Brown

The Steelers grabbed Brown in exchange for a first draft choice last year but he was erratic in early season games. He soon found himself on the sidelines again while Bobby Layne ran the club. When Layne retired before this season, Coach Buddy Parker handed Brown the job.

"Sure I was disappointed in him last season, but I knew he was better," Parker said. "He's playing this year exactly like I expected him to."

"It was hard for him to adjust to our system last year," Parker added. "Now I'm hoping he remembers enough about the Bears' system to help beat them."

"He's the type of guy who doesn't say much but I know he wants nothing better than to beat the Bears."

Jack Van Dalen rolled a 562 and his fourth left Green series and Jerome Gaffney hit Bay behind 19-0 early in the 553 for the lone honor scores posted in the National League.

Iowa Cager, 15, Dies Following Playing 3 Minutes

JEFFERSON, S.D. (AP)—Jerry Lee Wilcox, 15, of Akron, Iowa high school, died in the dressing room at Jefferson High Tuesday night after playing in a basketball game between the B teams of the two schools.

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury County, Iowa, Medical Examiner, said death was caused either by a heart attack or an aneurysm—a blood vessel disorder.

Teammates said Wilcox played the last three minutes of the game. They said he took off his shirt in the dressing room, then grew rigid. Others players caught him as he sank to the floor.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilcox.

The Philadelphia 76ers, new to the Syracuse Nationals, haven't set the National Basketball Association on fire since the franchise was shifted to the Quaker City. Nevertheless Coach Dolph Schayes is confident his 76ers will make the playoffs by beating out the revived New York Knicks in the Eastern Division.

Beaten in two previous games by the Knicks, the 76ers turned the tables on the New Yorkers Wednesday night, 118-101, as Lee Shaffer and Hal Greer combined for 54 points. It was the first Philadelphia victory of the season over the Knicks and gave the 76ers a two-game lead over the team they must beat to make the playoffs.

The Detroit Pistons snapped a three-game losing streak by coming from behind to defeat the Cincinnati Royals 124-118 in Wednesday's other scheduled NBA game.

Dave Gambee suffered a possible fracture of the metatarsal bone in his left foot and may be lost to Philadelphia for a week or so.

Spartans Top Defensive Unit Against Rush

Mississippi Is Nation's Leader In Over-All Figures

BY TTE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If statistics are an accurate gauge, Illinois is going to have its problems in its game against Michigan State Saturday for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid.

Figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed today that the Spartans have one of the best defensive teams in the country, particularly against teams that move the ball on the ground.

Rushing happens to be Illinois' favorite mode of attack.

Although Mississippi is the national leader in total defense, having yielded only an average of 138.4 yards a game, Michigan State is fourth in the list and ranks No. 1 in rushing defense.

71.3 Per Game

The Spartans have permitted an average of only 71.3 yards a game on the ground. They have permitted less than two yards—1.9 yards to be exact—on every rush, as an average.

Although fourth in total defense behind Mississippi, Southern Mississippi and Memphis State, the Michigan Spartans with 171.5 yards yielded per game have the best record among teams that play a completely major schedule.

The Spartans also have been stingy with points—permitting only 6.3 points a game. They're fourth nationally in this category.

Mississippi is the team leader in defense against scoring, with a .9 points a game given up, as well as over-all defense. Texas Western has the best pass defense, giving up only 40.1 yards a game through the air.

Don't Curve to Left

Some bowlers are able to throw a curve before they learn how or why. It just comes natural. While a straight ball is preferable for beginners, the person who uses a curve can obtain reasonable accuracy for allowing for their "bender."

Stand a little farther to the left than a straight-ball bowler. Then you are more likely to hit the pocket formed by the No. 1 and No. 3 pins. Don't stand so that your ball repeatedly curves past the headpin on the left side, as illustrated at top left.

Black Hawks Whip Detroit

Bobby Hull Scores 2 Goals, Bruins, Rangers Tie, 1-1

There's no ice like home for the Detroit Red Wings. And one of the best things about their home ice is that it doesn't have Bobby Hull on it all the time.

The Red Wings started Wednesday night at Chicago as if they were going to break their long spell of road frustration.

They were in front 2-0 after 12 minutes, but then Hull went to work and tied the score with his 13th and 14th goals of the season. The Black Hawks went on to a 5-2 victory.

Detroit now has failed to gain a victory in eight road games since the National Hockey League season started. They have one tie.

In a full NHL schedule, Gilles Villeneuve made his debut in the nets for the New York Rangers a good one in a 1-1 tie with the Boston Bruins at Madison Square Garden, and Montreal topped Toronto 3-1 at Toronto.

Hull's two goals moved him into a two-point lead in the league scoring race. He has 28 points to 26 for Montreal's Jean Beliveau, who was shut out at Toronto.

Chicago captain Pierre Pilot suffered a fracture nose in the last period when he was hit by the puck.

Gold, Goods, Credit Finance a Hindrance In Communist Trade

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The touchy question of increasing U.S. trade with Eastern Europe's Communist nations runs into financial as well as political road blocks. Payment in gold or goods or credit.

Many of America's allies have been increasing this trade right along, often ignoring Washington's frowns. But they've been able to get payment for their exports by increasing their imports from the Communist bloc—items that U.S. importers don't want or can't buy—or by taking something the United States does not produce.

The political reasons for holding down trade are clear. Strategic goods from the United States would build up Communist war potential, and other goods might build up its economic health and a bit more effort into military output.

Export to Reds

In 1962 we exported $105 mil. worth of goods to Russia, when Congress banned private loans to a government in Eastern Europe in default in payment of its obligations to the U.S. This excludes the U.S.S.R. itself and Yugoslavia and Albania. Only recently has Washington ruled that this act doesn't apply to "normal" countries.

West Germany was exporting $668 million worth of goods to the Soviet Union in 1962. Japan exported $432 million. Japan and Canadian exports also have climbed steadily in recent years.

The principal items that the United States exports to the Communist bloc's current satellites, and gets back are not convertible, so that they are not convertible, so that they are not convertible, so that they are not convertible.

Poland chiefly takes American grain and sends meat. And payment in Russian gold products. East Germany takes a now-and-then thing.

to have and sends furs. Hungary prizes our industrial machinery and we take their wood manufactures. Bulgaria and Rumania are markets for our pharmaceuticals, and from Bulgaria we import spices and from Rumania glass products. Other items are traded with each nation in smaller proportions.

Legal Restrictions

The United States has legal restrictions on this Eastern European trade. The chief one is a ban on goods classes as strategic that might be used in an arms buildup. An export license is required for any goods ruled non-strategic.

Great Numbers Perish Frost-Smitten Ducks In Alberta Don't Move

CALGARY (AP)—What to do about frost-smitten ducks that don't know enough to go South for the winter?

The Calgary Fish and Game Association wants to scare them into the big move.

It sent a resolution to government officials here asking that all closed waters in Alberta be opened to hunters so they can go ahead with the fowl-frightening act.

But Curt Smith, director of the Alberta Fish and Wildlife Division, said Wednesday that little can be done to encourage reluctant ducks to move to warmer climes.

Every fall, he said in a telephone interview from Edmonton, great numbers of late maturing ducks perish in Alberta and efforts to scare them south have proved largely unsuccessful.

Too Immature

Studies have shown, said Smith, that late-nesting ducks beget late-nesting ducks and most of these are too immature to migrate ahead of the cold weather.

Migratory instincts in water fowl, he said, appear to be triggered by the number of daylight hours. Ducks which remain late

Bob Toddy and Pete Schmidt set the pace in the 41 Bowl League, with 568 threesomes.

Other top scorers were John Bialozynski, 562; and Ron Elmer, 559.

Russ Gupta picked up a 4-10 split. George's Steak House (24-9) leads Remter's Bar by three games.

WHY SMIRNOFF INSTEAD OF GIN?

It's filtered through a "mountain" of charcoal

Smirnoff makes the driest of Martinis because it's the driest of liquors. Every drop is filtered through 7 tons of activated charcoal. This "black magic" removes most of the congeners. No wonder Smirnoff is the world's finest liquor; crystal clear and smooth with no noticeable liquor taste or odor. Today Smirnoff already outsells every brand of gin in America. Isn't it time you tried it?

Charlie Reports Early Boston Not Cradle of Liberty, but Intolerance

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

BOSTON — This city which likes to call itself "The Cradle of Liberty" was probably nothing of the kind, for in its early days it was more truly a cradle of terrible intolerance.

It was the unpleasant custom of our forefathers to whip, beat, strip and drag people through the city if they were so bold as to belong to a different church.

One of the most ordinary brutalities was this: "You are to have your clothes stripped off the middle and to be tied to the tail end of a cart at the meeting house and to be drawn through three towns and to receive 30 lashes."

The lashes were inflicted with a two-handed whip made of twisted cord and catgut and they were delivered in segments — 10 lashes in each town. The liberty-loving brutes had discovered that in the winter time, the lash-wounds would freeze in between towns and that if they were beaten open in each town the torture would be so much the worse.

One poor Boston family named Southwick was heavily fined for not attending church. Unable to pay the heavy fine, they were taken to jail where they were stripped and beaten. While in confinement at jail, officials seized the cattle owned by the family and sold them to raise the money for their "debt" to the church.

The funds acquired from the sale of the cattle did not cover the full fine so the Southwick family was banished from Boston and sent to Shelter Island where they died of hunger and exposure.

Sold as a Slave

One daughter, 16 year old Cassandra Southwick, was not banished because the debt to the church was still not paid in full. So our liberty-loving forefathers took Cassandra to the Boston Common where they sold her as a slave.

It is recorded that two Quakers, Anne Austin and Mary Fisher, left England and came to Boston to seek religious freedom. They landed there in the morning in 1656. As soon as they set foot upon the shore, the deputy governor had them thrown into jail.

The windows of their cell were boarded up to prevent them from speaking to passersby about their religion, and their possessions were publicly burned. They were kept in jail for five weeks on bread and water and then pushed aboard a ship bound for Barbados in the West Indies.

Terrible Laws

Governor Endicott decided that he would pass new laws to discourage those who held different religious beliefs. It went like this:

They were to be flogged and imprisoned at hard labor for specified periods of time, depending upon how great was their sin. After they had served their sentence they were to be banished from Boston.

Then, if they came back to that cradle of liberty, their ears were to be cut off. Banished once again, they were warned not to return. If they did return, however, their tongues would be burned through with a hot iron. And if they returned a third time they were to be summarily hanged by the neck until dead.

Three Quakers braved these horrid laws. They were arrested, tortured and their ears were cut off. Banished, they soon returned and were dragged to the gallows on Boston Common. The Rev. John Wilson came to the

Woman Fined $200 at Trial

Mrs. Wayne Koester, Appleton, Guilty of Drunken Driving

Mrs. Wayne Koester, 32, 1824 S. Lawe St., was found guilty of drunken driving and fined $200 in a trial today in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Mrs. Koester was arrested May 24, 1963, and pleaded innocent. Police testified today Mrs. Koester was attempting to back up a car in a downtown alley and was advised at that time she should not drive the car.

Later that evening two patrolmen saw Mrs. Koester driving on N. Morrison Street. Her car was stopped and she was taken to the Appleton police station. She was examined by a doctor and tested .24 on a drunkometer.

A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

One Wardrobe With 25,000 Pieces Sold at Auction

CHICAGO (AP) — The personal wardrobe of one of Chicago's wealthiest women — an estimated 25,000 pieces of apparel — has been sold at public auction for $40,000.

The wardrobe, owned by the late Mrs. Violet Bidwill Wolfner, was sold at a three-day auction by order of Cook County Probate Court.

The clothes included more than 1,000 dresses — with a purse to match each dress — some 500 coats and 1,500 pairs of shoes. The highest price paid was $1,250 for a full length mink but many dresses and coats sold for 50 cents.

Mrs. Wolfner was 62 when she died in Miami Beach, Fla., in 1962. She left an estate of $3.1 million to her two adopted sons. Her first husband was Charles W. Bidwill, wealthy sportsman.

Panel Warns Man To Buck Inroads of Machine on Spirit

Lawrence, Post-Crescent Speakers To Continue Symposium Today

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

The consideration of "Human Values in a Scientific Age" was examined from three viewpoints Wednesday at the first session of the America and the World Community symposium in the Lawrence College chapel.

While the viewpoints of the scientist, psychiatrist and poet, who spoke were different, there was a chain of similarities that emerged to give unity to the examination.

Each of the speakers seemed to warn that Man must stay aware of his humanity on penalty of losing it in vastness, mystery and seductions of the scientific age.

The symposium continues at 8:15 p.m. tonight in the chapel when Dr. Harlow Shapley, astronomer from Harvard University, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, educator and psychiatrist of University of Chicago, and Howard Nemerov, poet of Bennington, Vt., College and the Library of Congress, expand their discussion while participating in a round-table session with Dr. Harold K. Schneider of Lawrence College acting as moderator. Questions submitted by members of Wednesday's near capacity audience will serve as a basis of the discussion.

Closer Union
Dr. Shapley Wednesday called for a closer union between the emotionalism of theology and the factuality of science to provide Man with a feeling of his place in the expanding universe by answering questions of his destiny, goals and probabilities of his future.

Dr. Bettelheim decried Man's drift toward conformity as stemming from his apparent acceptance of slavery to the machine and urged he keep his decision-making powers in tact as an individual.

Nemerov pointed up the dependence of science on Man's native ability to communicate in images, drawing from this a warning that life and progress is ephemeral and should be examined closely to discover the seeds of destruction to keep them under control.

Echoes Need

Dr. Shapley echoed this need for humility as he called for the building of a system of ethics for the "now" rather than the "2,000-year-old then" which, he said, theology espouses. This system should be based on two responses: a pride in existing in the "glorious sea of the universe" tempered by humility from realizing how small our part of the universe is.

The universe, he said, has been expanding from a "prime."

Unarmed Iranian Plane Shot Down

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Three Soviet jet fighters shot down an unarmed Iranian plane 18 miles inside Iranian territory after it accidentally strayed into the Soviet Union, official government reports said today.

Two aerial survey officials aboard the plane were killed and the pilot was seriously injured.

The plane, on a photographic mission in connection with a land redistribution project in northeast Iran, lost its way Wednesday and flew into Soviet territory, the reports said.

Hoffa Attorney Barred From Federal Courts

Judges Accuse Him Of $10,000 Offer to Prospective Juror

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An attorney preparing James R. Hoffa's defense against jury-tampering charges has been accused of the same offense and barred from practicing in federal courts.

District Judges William E. Miller and Frank Gray Jr. signed an order Wednesday night prohibiting Z. T. Osborn Jr. of Nashville from practicing in their courts. Officials said the order would bar the lawyer from all federal courts.

Bribe Offer Alleged

The judges accused Osborn, 43, of offering $10,000 through a middleman to a prospective juror if he would prevent conviction of Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Neither Osborn nor Hoffa could be reached for comment.

Hoffa and six other men are to go on trial Jan. 6 on charges of attempting to influence jurors in Hoffa's trial in Nashville last year on charges of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act. Osborn, one of Nashville's leading lawyers, helped defend Hoffa in the 1962 trial.

Miller's memorandum said Osborn offered $5,000 through Nashville Policeman Robert D. Vick for the prospective juror, Ralph A. Elliott, if and when he was seated on the jury. The other $5,000 would be paid if Hoffa was not convicted.

Elliott, a member of the district court panel of prospective jurors was said to be a relative of Vick's.

However, Elliott was not contacted and information obtained by Vick was turned over to federal authorities.

Judge Miller said Osborn appeared before the court last Friday, and added:

Program to Aid Mankind, Kennedy Says

Scientific Aims Are Bipartisan, He Asserts in Texas

BY JACK BELL

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy depicted his administration's New Frontier scientific program today as a bipartisan approach to the future which would benefit all mankind.

The Democratic President said in a speech prepared for dedication of the Aerospace Medical Health Center at Brooks Air Force Base that the "New Frontiers" slogan which helped him with the presidency in 1960 "is not the exclusive property of either Democrats or Republicans."

Envisions New Era
"It refers instead," he said, "to this nation's position in history today — to the fact that we stand on the edge of a new era filled with both crises and opportunities, an era to be characterized by both grim challenges and historic achievements."

This unusual bipartisanship on the part of the President seemed to reflect considerable administration worry about what is going on in Texas. The state will cast 25 electoral votes, slightly less than one-tenth of the 270 total Kennedy would need for re-election in 1964.

Vote Modern Language in Sacraments

Council Permits Full Use in All Catholic Churches

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today to permit the use of modern language throughout the sacraments of the Roman Catholic Church, such as baptism and marriage, without retaining Latin even for key phrases.

The council also put aside, at least temporarily, controversial declarations on Jews and religious liberty.

The declarations on Jews and religious liberty, part of a schema on Christian unity, William David Milne, 31, of had been the key issues in the council's general debate on the schema.

GOP Leaders Ignore Request

Special Session Hinted Unless Legislature Acts on Highway Bill

MADISON (AP)—The Republican-controlled Wisconsin Legislature pushed toward a recess until April today despite a Democratic warning that failure to act on an accelerated highway construction program could lead to a special session.

GOP Assembly leaders indicated that they have no intention of acting on Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds' substitute highway bill, co-sponsored by two Republicans and two Democrats with the chief executive's approval.

Governor May Act
Democratic Floorleader Robert Huber of West Allis warned three per cent sales tax on his colleagues that failure to household electricity. Assembly act on the program Reynolds concurrence was expected in calls Project 66 may prod the measure which would cut governor to call a special session next month, I guess, Reynolds said that a $25 million surplus could be expected at the end of the biennium and the levy could be repealed safely along with other taxes.

Republicans were suspicious of the governor's estimated surplus, but 16 of them voted for the electricity tax cut.

Strongest opposition came from Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Boscawen, who is co-chairman of the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee. He scolded fellow senators for the action, declaring they should wait until next spring when revenue estimates will be more complete.

"It looks like everybody wants to get on the tax cutting band wagon," Hollander said.

The Senate also concurred in an Assembly bill to eliminate the sales tax on food processing equipment. The Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a measure to repeal the sales tax on repairs made on vehicles prior to resale.

Before recessing at 10 o'clock

Adoula Ready to Publish Documents Seized From 2 Arrested Soviet Agents

BY ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Avelino Adoula is preparing to break diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia and expel their diplomats from the Congo, government sources said today.

The sources said Adoula would shortly publish documents, seized from two Soviet diplomats arrested Tuesday, which showed deep involvement of the two Communist countries in subversion in the Congo.

The sources said expulsion letters to the Russians and the Czechs were being readied by the Foreign Ministry. The final decision on when to deliver them is up to Adoula, they added.

Red Newsmen Seized

Soviet Embassy officials reported that a Russian newspaperman was arrested at his hotel Wednesday night. He was Benik Boknazar - Juzhachev, correspondent of the Soviet Novosti news agency who arrived recently in Leopoldville.

The Soviet officials said they still had received no news of the two diplomats who were dragged from their car and arrested two days ago.

The two embassy counsellors Boris Voronin and press attache Yuri Mikhonikh, were arrested on their return from Brazzaville, capital of the neighboring Congo Republic, where extremist opponents of the Adoula regime are setting up a "Congolese government in exile."

Documents Studied

Adoula and his Cabinet Wednesday night examined documents taken from the two Russians. Well-informed sources said they included letters from Christophe Gbenye, leader of the extreme nationalist followers of the late Patrice Lumumba.

These sources said the letters included a request for five billion Congo francs — about $27 million — in counterfeit bills to be used to destroy confidence in the Congo's currency.

Another Suggestion

Another letter reportedly asked the Russians to investigate links between Communist China and followers of former Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga, whose separatist regime in Stanleyville had Soviet support and recognition.

Gbenye and several Gizengist leaders are among the Congolese politicians who have sought the protection of Brazzaville's left-leaning provisional government.

Mikhonikh, who has been extremely active in extremist circles, was known to have been in recent contact with Gbenye in Brazzaville, well-informed circles said.

Police Hunt For Clues in Gang Killing

SIXTH SLAYING OF ITS KIND THIS YEAR; Body in Auto Trunk

CHICAGO (AP)—Authorities today are seeking associates of underworld murder victim Leo Foreman, 42, for possible leads in the sixth Chicago gangland slaying this year.

Foreman's body was found Monday in the trunk of an automobile parked on the West Side. The underworld money lender had been shot three times and stabbed eight times.

Police want to talk to Bernard Vilona, Foreman's partner in the LeFore Insurance Co., and Robert McDonnell, a lawyer whose name is on the door of Foreman's office.

Secretary Located

The murder victim's secretary, Denise Nelson, was located in Seaside, Calif., and is expected in Chicago for questioning next month. A fourth person wanted for interrogation, Joseph Stein, operator and reputed owner of the First National Mortgage Co., will return from Dallas Monday, police said.

Developments in the slaying, Chicago's 99th gangland murder since 1919, revealed that Municipal Court Judge Cecil Corbett Smith had been a friend of Foreman's for 20 years.

Smith told newsmen Foreman had tried to fix cases in his court, including a fine levied on crime syndicate loan shark Sam De Stefano. Smith said the fix attempts were not successful.

President May Withdraw Name Of Rabinovitz

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is considering withdrawing his nomination of David Rabinovitz, Sheboygan labor attorney, for the federal judgeship of the Western Wisconsin district, it was learned today.

According to a usually reliable Democratic source, who wished not to be identified, the President, and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy have decided it might not be wise to press the nomination in view of strong opposition to it among members of the Wisconsin Bar Association.

One possible "compromise" candidate who is being considered, the Democratic source said, was Atty. Leonard Schmitt of Merrill, reportedly a former Republican. Schmitt is currently defending Gov. Reynolds' appointments to high state positions.

Ordinance Creating Public Works Head Read at New London

Council Expects Adoption After Second Hearing Dec. 3

NEW LONDON—An ordinance creating the office of director of public works was read for the first time at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

The ordinance is expected to be adopted by the council following the second reading which will be Dec. 3.

The ordinance also abolishes the offices of city engineer and street commissioner.

The first term of office expires May 1, 1967, and each following term will be for three years. The salary and expenses for the office are to be determined by the council.

Appleton Has Record High Budget

Appleton Common Council Wednesday night adopted a record budget and set the same over-all rate as this year, destroying hopes for a 1964 tax cut.

Budget adopted was $9,710,499 with an over-all rate of $46.64.

Residents of the first precinct of the ninth ward, which is in Calumet county, will have a 45-cent drop in their rate.

If the council had accepted the recommendations of the finance committee, the community would have gotten its first cut in taxes in more than a decade.

The committee recommended plan called for a 49-cent rate decrease. Some $40,000 of $60,000 in board of education requests originally cut from the budget were restored by a close vote Wednesday.

Talbot Peterson Lists Four Keys to State GOP Victory

Says Party Needs Organization, Funds, Unity, Responsibility

SEYMOUR — Four keys to a 1964 Republican victory in Wisconsin were outlined to Outagamie County Republicans meeting here Tuesday by state GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton.

More than 100 attended the monthly meeting, at which Peterson outlined GOP campaign plans. Peterson called his four great strides will be needed in keys funds, organizations, unity and responsibility. He told of growing enthusiasm among state Republicans as evidenced at recent party meetings and speaking engagements of major GOP candidates.

Vast sums of money will be needed in the statewide campaign. The state organization is shooting at a working fund of $100,000 for each statewide candidate. Peterson said expensive television spots will be secured before the election, but first fund-raising campaigns.

Peterson warned that the party could not depend upon a few large contributors to carry the campaign. He said the party's funds must come from individual Republicans.

Precinct organizations will be beefed up along with neighborhood vote and fund solicitation drives. He said that party workers must orient themselves

Pays to Wear Byrnes Button

SEYMOUR — It paid to wear a Byrnes button on your suitcoat lapel Wednesday night at the Outagamie County Republican dinner meeting here.

State GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson spotted the pin which was carried over from the last election on the lapel of a Seymour Republican. He asked to take it, pinned it on his own lapel and commented that it would come in handy at a meeting of midwest Republicans in St. Louis, which he is attending today.

Peterson is promoting Congressman Byrnes as a favorite son candidate in the 1964 Wisconsin presidential primary.

for an across-the-board party victory in 1964 instead of splintering after the convention.

The GOP has the responsibility to back a potential ticket with a single candidate for each major office, said Peterson. One of the major goals of the state GOP will be to enroll 106,000 paid members or 10 per cent of the vote from the last general election.

The campaign itself will be run from state headquarters. Thus, said Peterson, it will have greater continuity and harmony. A wide area telephone service will be employed to make contacts during the campaign and substantially reduce long distance telephone call costs.

"The only thing that counts is to win," said Peterson, and we must do anything we feel we must do to win in '64 short of unethical tactics."

Outagamie County Chairman John Conway said the county GOP cannot sit back because the party always has carried the day. He indicated that a strong vote in Fox Valley counties was needed to offset opposition stronghold votes downstate.

Peterson is in St. Louis today at a meeting of Midwest Republican leaders. In his five months as state GOP chairman Peterson has traveled 15,000 miles and has met more than 5,000 fellow Republicans.

Reimers Held for Trial in Slaying of Ex-Wife's Friend

Waupaca Man Faces Charges of Attempted First Degree Murder

BY DICK McDANIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—George P. Reimers Sr., 45, route 1, Waupaca, was ordered held for county court on charges of first degree murder and attempted first degree murder by Judge Wendell McHenry Wednesday afternoon following a preliminary hearing in Circuit Court.

Reimers, who admitted the slaying of a friend of his ex-wife in a statement to Sheriff Loran Frazier and Undersheriff William Mork, was held in county jail without bond.

Reimers is accused of shooting Willys N. Holmes, 40, route 1, Nov. 9 in the home of his ex-wife, Mrs. Ruth Rollefson, route 1. He also is accused of attempting to murder Mrs. Rollefson by hitting her on the head with the barrel of the rifle used in shooting Holmes. Holmes died about 2 a.m. Nov. 10 in Waupaca Riverside Community hospital.

Dark Glasses

Mrs. Rollefson, wearing oversized dark glasses, a white headscarf and black dress and chewing gum, was on the witness stand the longest.

Under questioning by Dist. Atty. Gerald G. Anderson, she said she and Holmes walked into her home about 10:30 p.m. Nov. 9, and found Reimers waiting for them with a .22 caliber rifle. "I'm going to kill you both," Mrs. Rollefson quoted Reimers as saying. "He then shot Willys and started hitting me over the head with the gun," she added.

She said she "came to" on the kitchen floor in "a pool of blood" from her head and heard Willys calling for help but "George would not let me out to get help." She said she had divorced Reimers in February, 1961.

Five Weeks

She said she spent the Friday night before the shooting in the home of the victim and that she had been living in her home with Reimers for five weeks until the Monday before the shooting. She said Reimers "took my bed and I slept on theavenport."

Mrs. Rollefson said she stayed Nov. 8 in the Holmes' home "because I was afraid of George."

She also said Reimers had threatened to kill her and had beaten her one night in a hotel room in Iron Mountain.

At another time, she said her daughter had to take a butcher knife to "get him away from me at my home. Everything was fine as long as he got all the

Tigerton Man Hangs Self

William Peredos Found Dead in Barn by Neighbor

TIGERTON — William Peredos, 68, route 1, was found dead at 7:45 a.m. today after he apparently took his own life. Shawano sheriff's police said.

Peredos was found hanging in a barn by Don Lehmanns, route 1, when he went to the barn to feed livestock he was keeping there. Lehmanns recently had purchased the farm from Peredos.

Louis Hoeffs, Shawano County deputy coroner, set the time of death at 6 a.m.

Peredos was born in Yugoslavia and was a retired sailor. His wife had died recently.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Threatened Negroes

Appleton Man Fined $50 for Bar Incident

Donald Korth, 22, 1906 N. Charlotte St., who said he had a lot of people to apologize to, was fined $50 and court costs Wednesday for attempting to pick a fight with four Negro entertainers who were eating in an Appleton restaurant early Wednesday morning.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave Keller in sentencing the Appleton man who became belligerent and had to be handcuffed by police told Korth the community does not tolerate "taking things into your own hands."

Judge Keller at the same time commended efforts of Patrolman Donald Wakefield and other Appleton policemen who went to the crowded restaurant and arrested Korth. Judge Keller said a tragic riot was prevented by the quick actions of police.

Wakefield Wednesday took the stand in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 and testified that almost 100 people were in the restaurant when Korth attempted to fight with the four Negroes who were sitting at a table at the rear of the restaurant.

Regan Jeering

Wakefield said when other police came to the restaurant, patrons in the restaurant began jeering and clapping.

The patrolman said when Korth was taken in handcuffs from the restaurant, many patrons began booing.

One patron, after police had left, began chiding the Negro entertainers and was asked to leave by Frank Pierri, a partner in the restaurant. He left without further incident.

Korth said Wednesday after he apologized "to a lot of people" about the incident. He said he lost his temper in the restaurant and could not further account for his actions. He agreed that he had no right to force the Negro patrons from the restaurant.

The Negroes were a nightclub act which has been appearing in Appleton recently under the name The Rosa LaKing Trio.

1962 Divorce

During defense Atty. Richard Johnson's questioning, she also admitted she received her divorce from Reimers in February, 1962, instead of 1961 as she had previously testified.

At the time of the shooting she said "Wilys tried to back out the kitchen door but George rushed up and shot him."

She said she heard Holmes ask for help because he was shot. She said while she was laying on the kitchen floor "every time I tried to get up he hit me on the head."

"I told him I was sick and he

Watch Runs Slow; Shooting Hours Charge Dismissed

CHILTON — Calumet County Judge D. H. Seborra turned a sympathetic ear toward the owner of an allegedly slow wrist watch and dismissed a charge of hunting after hours in Calumet County Court Wednesday.

Henry Vander Wielen, 117 Wilson St., Kimberly, had been charged with hunting squirrels six minutes after the close of legal shooting hours. He was arrested by conservation wardens in the Town of Stockbridge Oct. 26.

Vander Wielen explained to the court that he had the watch in his pocket and that the timepiece was slow.

Men Held for Court In Waupaca Murder

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 told them he went into the home between 6 and 6:30 p.m. and got the gun, loaded it and waited for Mrs. Rollefson and added.

During Johnson's questioning, she said Reimers threatened to kill her if "I did not come back to him."

After claiming she did not remember if Reimers had returned to her home in the spring of 1963, she said "sure, he forced himself in" some time around October, Memorial day.

She said she first started seeing Holmes in June or July, 1963. "George never wanted me, all he ever wanted was money," she added. She said she and Reimers filed a joint income tax return in 1963.

Sheriff Frazier and Undersheriff Mork were questioned by Johnson about Reimers' statement. Both testified Reimers said "he wanted to see an attorney before talking about his relationship with Mrs. Rollefson."

Reimers surrendered himself at the sheriff's office later that night.

Frazier said he found another shell in the rifle, but thought "the bolt was damaged and it would not fire." He said he found the spent shell on the floor of the home. He said the rifle, which had a broken stock, was sent to the crime laboratory in Madison.

Johnson asked for the statement made by Holmes, but Frazier said the district attorney had it.

Both Frazier and Mork, under questioning by Johnson concerning the text of the statement, said Reimers told Mrs. Rollefson "It is nice that you can spread your love around" before he shot Holmes.

The two men said Reimers

County Policeman John Bonnell said he was the first to arrive at the home where he found Holmes on the floor of the living room.

"I asked him who did it and he said 'George shot me,'" Bonnell testified. "He chased her and probably killed her by now," Bonnell quoted Holmes as saying.

Bonnell said he then went out the front door of the home and started looking for Reimers. He said when Frazier and Reimers filed a joint income tax return in 1963.

Johnson also questioned Bonnell about Reimers' clothing left in the home while Reimers was in jail on 17 worthless check counts. Bonnell said Reimers' clothes were brought to his home by Holmes.

Johnson asked Bonnell about talking to Reimers about Holmes' condition. Bonnell said he had discussed the matter with Reimers several times.

Dr. M. O. Boudry, Waupaca physician who attended Holmes and Mrs. Rollefson, testified Holmes never reached "operative condition" and died on the operating table.

He said he talked to Holmes and learned he had been shot, but "the name sounded foreign." He said the bullet entered near the middle of the upper abdomen and there was no exit wound.

About Condition
Dr. Boudry said his talks with Holmes were mostly about Holmes' condition. He said he was assuring him they were doing everything they could.

The doctor also testified he could not tell how far from Holmes the gun was held. He said the bullet entered the body straight and not at an angle.

He said the autopsy report was not yet available.

Optimism in Future Cited at Panel Speakers Interview

Harvard's Dr. Shapley Says Moon Race Cost Excessive

A feeling of optimism for the obsolete and warned progress future was expressed by American only be achieved by scrap- ing the World Community ping the 18th and 19th century symposium speakers today at a images of economic thought and press conference break fast use of the powers available to where Dr. Harlow Shapley ob- jected to the United State's race to get a man on the moon. Dr. Shapley of Harvard Uni- versity, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim of the University of Chicago and Dr. Howard Nemerov of Ben- ington, Vt., College and the Li- brary of Congress are appear- ing in a "Human Values in a Sci- entific Age" symposium under the sponsorship of Lawrence College and the Post-Crescent.

They spoke Wednesday night and will participate tonight in a round-table discussion at the Lawrence chapel when audience members will be able to ques- tion them.

Deer's Spending Billions
Dr. Shapley, this morning, de- ried the spending of billions of dollars in the moon race when, he said, all man needs to know about the moon can be had for millions of dollars spent on re- finer instrumentation.

He said science, and he es- pecially would like to know four things about the moon to help unravel the mysteries of the universe. These are the depth of the moon's dust layer to de- termine the penetration of me- teorites, the exact location of its magnetic poles and the strength of its magnetic field to determine if it has a core sim- ilar to earth's, more information about the backside of the moon and moon rock samples—for de- termining potassium content which would indicate the charac- ter of its atmosphere.

The need to transport a com- plete, friendly environment to the moon and the problem of departure from the moon are two adverse factors that oppose sending men to the moon.

Russians' Lack Interest
Shapley said he felt these rea- sons are responsible for the Rus- sians' recent lack of interest in the race. In fact he said he felt the Russians may have failed in attempts to place men on the moon prior to their recent atti- tude.

Dr. Bettelheim and Dr. Sha- pley reported a growing feeling of optimism for the future is widespread in the world com- pared with a few years ago.

Dr. Bettelheim said war today only could be the result of an in- conceivable stupidity and declar- ed the whole idea of war has be- come obsolete.

The swiftly changing technol- ogies in the world, he said, are making many long-held concepts

Shopping for Doctor Can Cause Problems

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. (This is the first in a series of two articles.)

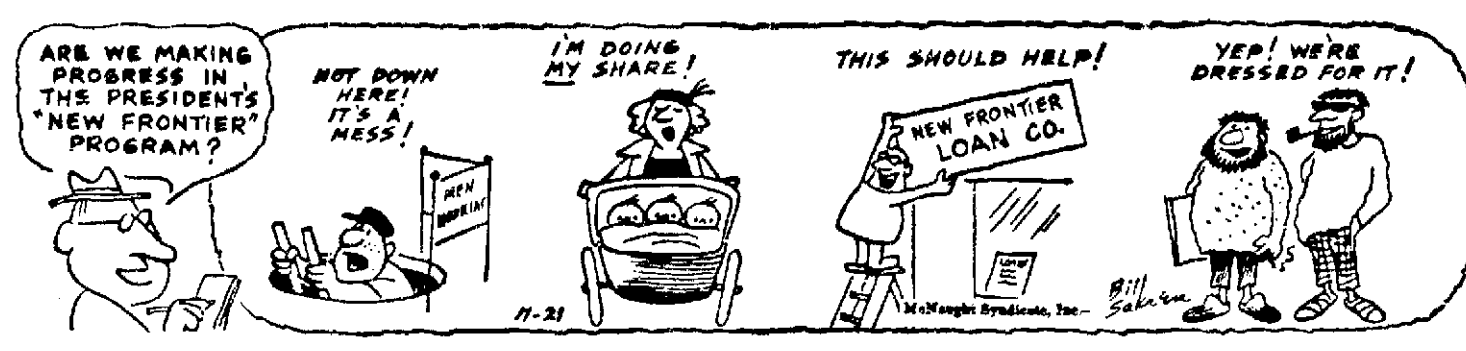

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently went to a new doctor. He didn't ask any questions. He only took my blood pressure and listened to my heart. I hadn't been to a doctor in over a year, and figured that because of having had a cancer removed several years ago, and having diabetes and arthritis, I needed a good checkup. I quit going to this doctor.

MRS. R. S. Neither of the above letters makes me feel very happy, as your article on cancer of the colon I felt I had to write to you, rather than throwing brick bats. I lost my husband two months ago. He had the bowel symptoms you wrote of, and had at least four of what were supposed to be "complete medical checkups," but the doctors, twice different ones, said he was ok. He had backache and knew something was wrong. He returned for another checkup and the doctor finally used the proctoscope and discovered what he thought were polyps. Within a week my husband underwent surgery, but the cancer was too far advanced and he died shortly thereafter. This could have been avoided if the proctoscope had been used in the first examination. I hope no one else will have to die because of what I feel was an oversight.

MRS. L. H. Second, ideally every "medical checkup" ought to be "complete," but this isn't feasible. There aren't enough doctors, and there's also a question of money and time.

It is highly important to have a personal physician and learn to know him and have him learn the scope is not being used as much as it should be. Patients don't know you. Usually the doctor will be a general practitioner or an internist. But there are exceptions — a pediatrician for a child, or a gynecologist, who often notices some symptom outside his specialty, and so on.

The patient, if he is dealing with a new doctor, should make it quite clear what he wants when he asks for an appointment for a checkup. Does he expect a routine, quick and inexpensive survey? Or is he worried over any particular problem? Or does he want "the works," and is willing to pay for a more complete examination and should be planned in advance.

For any new patient, I regard a history as a fundamental requirement. Otherwise, how can a doctor evaluate the problems involved? I recall vividly a patient who denied rectal bleeding. Blood was discovered on examination. It was too late. He died in six months from the cancer of the colon.

More on the subject tomorrow.

Heels Ache

Dear Dr. Molner: My heels ache so much that sometimes I have to stay off my feet after walking just a short distance. What should I do?

See your doctor or a pediatrician. One possibility is "heel spurs," or calcified areas from some prior injury. Sometimes surgical removal is the answer; sometimes simpler methods suffice, such as cushioning the heel of the shoe.

NOTE TO MRS. C. H.: Yes, a borderline diabetic can become pregnant. So can diabetics. In either case, go to your doctor as soon as you even suspect pregnancy. (Every woman should do this, but it is especially true of diabetics.)

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you

Applications Received on 17th Ward Alderman Vacancy

Three more 17th Ward residents — making a total of four — have applied for the position of alderman to fill a vacancy created last week.

The common council will receive applications for a two-week period and then make its selection by secret ballot.

The person picked to fill the position of the late Donald Mueller will have to run for re-election in the spring of 1964, according to City Clerk Elden Broehm.

Appleton's council is comprised of 20 aldermen, one from each of the wards, receiving $1,200 annually.

Latest To Apply

The latest to apply: Atty. James T. Bayorgeon, 313 E. Randall St., who maintains a law office at 111 S. Mead Drive and is an assistant Outagamie County district attorney.

Mrs. Arch Hoffman, 627 E. Brewster St., a housewife and active in the League of Women Voters.

Lawrence M. Thomas, 417 E. Lindbergh St., an employee of the Fox River Bus Lines, Inc.
